Rain Not Enough, Wind Does Damage

The hot, humid weather which has engulfed the area for the past few days was broken Wednesday afternoon when a fast-moving electrical storm broke shortly before 5 o'clock. The temperature which had reached the lower 90's just before the storm broke, dropped 22 degrees in a matter of minutes. A heavy downpour accompanied by gusts of wind which in some places were described as "twisters," gave only temporary relief from the drought and the weather bureau predicted a continuation of the hot, dry weather.

Services Disrupted

Electric service, telephone and Cablevision were interrupted in several places in the city by falling branches and trees.

On Fair Street a large tree was blown down when a "twister" line, telephones and Cablevision service was interrupted and the home of Augustus R. Schrowang Jr., at 165 Fair Street, was damaged when struck by the falling tree. Power in the area went off at 4:22 and it was 7:11 p. m. before power was restored. Traffic was halted until Board of Public Works workmen removed the tree.

Traffic was halted for a time when a large limb fell on Flatbush Avenue near Foxhall Avenue.

Emergency Declared

Up-state the village of Hoosic Falls was badly hit by the storm and Mayor Leo J. Albrowicz declared a state of natural disaster, calling out the sheriff and Civil Defense for help. It was reported a "funnel cloud" had appeared in the Sacandaga Lake area. Three houses in Hoosic Falls were wrecked by falling trees. The roof of the Albany Yacht Club in Rensselaer was blown off by a gust of wind.

Locally Central Hudson reported the storm had left "spotty" damage, the most serious being that done by the falling tree on Fair Street.

There was electrical interruptions in the Roosevelt Park area, in the West Park-Esopus area, at Bloomington and in the High Woods area.

400 Affected

Central Hudson reported approximately 400 customers had been affected by the storm. The damage in the Central Hudson territory was confined mostly to the city of Kingston and a few miles in the surrounding area.

Telephone service in the Fair Street area was partially restored Wednesday night and all service was restored today.

Ulster County, which made application to be considered a drought area has been approved.

Sen. Engle Dies, Salinger Hinted To Fill Out Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., forced by illness to abandon a fight for re-election, died early today at his home here. He was 52.

There was speculation that Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California would name former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger to fill out the remainder of Engle's term.

Salinger won a hot primary battle from State Controller Allan Cranston last June 2 for Democratic nomination to the Senate.

Was Going to Run

Despite a brain operation last summer, Engle had announced plans to run for re-election early this year.

But he withdrew following a dramatic episode in the Senate April 13 in which he tried to introduce a resolution and couldn't speak.

Aides privately had arranged for Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., making a prolonged speech on the civil rights bill, to yield to Engle for the resolution.

Engle arose to his feet, assisted by two aides, stood silently for an agonizing minute and could utter only "one audible sound."

Facing a second brain operation April 24, Engle dropped his plans to try for a second term in the Senate.

Bed-Ridden Since Second

He had been opposed in the primary by both Salinger and Cranston and nine others. Many of his former supporters had contended he was unable to campaign and carry out his Senate duties.

The senator had been bed-ridden since his second brain operation in April.

But he came to the Senate in a wheelchair last June to cast

It was reliably reported today that Judie's Restaurant at 395 Albany Avenue, was being negotiated for sale to an unidentified person.

Mrs. Julia C. Currie, proprietor, confirmed that negotiations were in progress, "but nothing has been signed." She declined to identify the prospective buyer. However, it was reported that Vincent Buckman, operator of Buckman's Restaurant in Woodstock, was the prospective buyer. He could not be reached for comment.

Meanwhile, it also was reliably reported that Mrs. Currie's daughter, Mrs. John (Betty) Schick, was negotiating for the purchase of the estate of the late County Judge Andrew J. Cook at 263 Albany Avenue, from Earl Milner.

HONORED FOR 30 YEARS OF SERVICE— Employees of Ulster County Welfare Department Wednesday night honored Mrs. Helen Gill, senior caseworker at a dinner in the American Legion Home, West O'Reilly Street, on the occasion of her retirement after 30 years of service. Mrs. Gill, who started as an investigator in the Kingston Welfare Department before it was consolidated in the county office, retires on Friday.

Mrs. Gill has two daughters, Mrs. Ted Lyke and Mrs. Robert Murray Jr., both of this city, and a son, Col. H. W. Merchant of Fort Benning, Ga. Principals at the dinner are (l-r) Miss Rose M. Feeney, medical worker; Joseph Fitzsimmons, welfare commissioner; Mrs. Gill; James Murphy, deputy commissioner; Mrs. Dorothy Brett, case supervisor, and Mrs. Martha Skea, dinner chairman. Arms Ban Ordered in Rochester

Says Teen Group Triggered Riots

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Law enforcement authorities—looking ahead apprehensively to the approaching weekend in riot-scarred Rochester—have clamped down on pistol permit applications.

The temporary ban on the issuance of such applications came as the city spent another relatively quiet night without a renewal of the bloody racial violence that rocked two Negro sections last weekend. A four-day suspension of liquor sales was lifted Wednesday.

Guard Stands Ready

City and state police continued patrolling the trouble areas, and some 1,500 National Guard troops stood by ready to move in and help quell any new outbreaks.

Fred Moriarty, deputy county clerk said he had been asked by the city's detective division to issue no more pistol permit applications to Rochester residents.

The request came after it was noted that Monday and Tuesday brought nearly three times the normal number of applications, Moriarty said.

Lifting of the liquor ban followed by less than 24 hours the apparently successful suspension of the dusk-to-dawn curfew. Both restrictions were imposed on the city after the rioting broke out last Saturday. The violence resulted in the death of four persons, injuries to 350 and property damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

'Upsetters' Blamed

Meanwhile, Deputy Police Chief Clarence DePrez said investigators had established that a teenage group called the "Upsetters" was the prime force in triggering the weekend riots.

DePrez said the violence was touched off when unidentified members of the group attempted to prevent the arrest for disorderly conduct of a youth at a street dance.

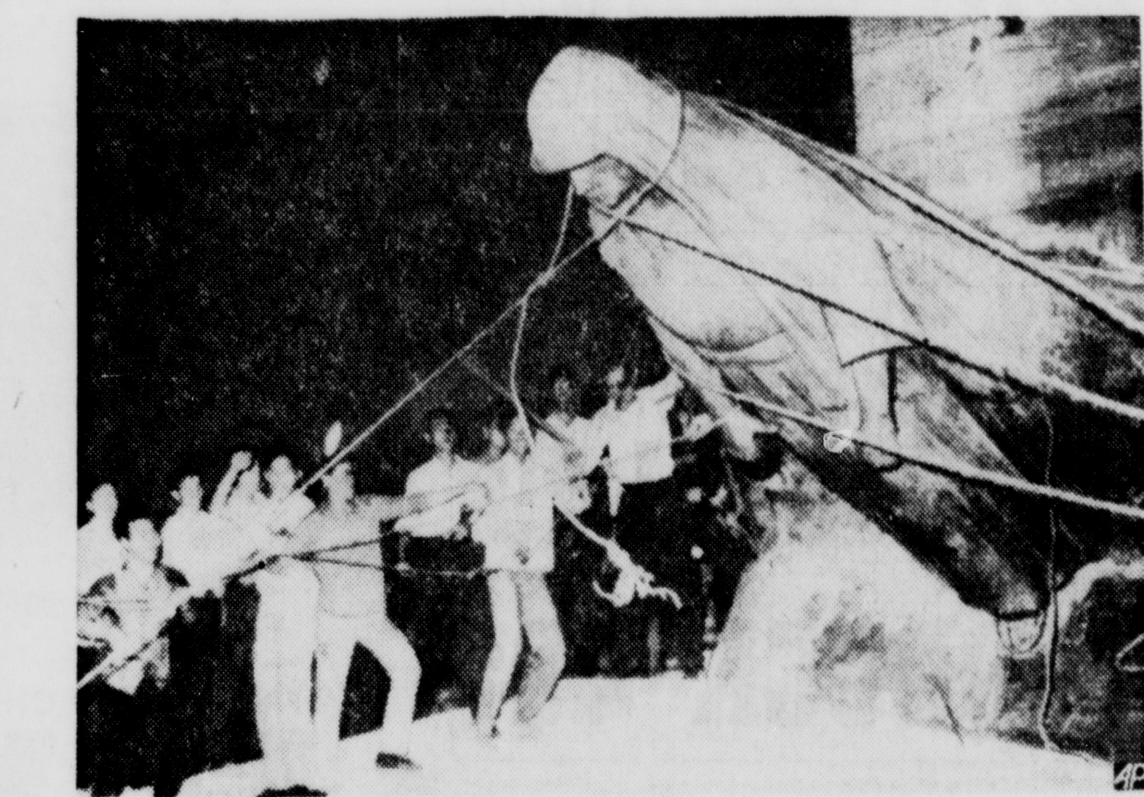

He contended that their actions amounted to an open invitation for others to follow, and the incident then flared out of control.

A Negro woman, who may have saved the life of Police Chief William Lombard during the rioting, was released without bail Wednesday, informally paroled to an attorney under her own recognizance, on a felony riot charge, after spending several days in jail.

The woman, Mrs. Juanita High, 32, was on the fringe of an angry crowd of Negroes that had surrounded Lombard last Friday night.

She said: "The chief's car already was busted up and burning. He was hurt himself, and I knew he could be killed, so I just kept tugging along at him and pretty

Young Sees Uphill Fight For Barry

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Republican State chairman foresees "an uphill fight" in New York for Sen. Barry Goldwater but rejects a proposal by the pro-Goldwater Conservative party for a common slate of presidential electors on the November ballot.

Fred A. Young declared Wednesday that the GOP "never has and never will enter into any political deals with any splinter group to create a joint slate of presidential electors on the ballot."

The state's Conservative Party had sought agreement of the Republican State Committee on listing the same presidential electors on the Conservative line of the ballot as on the Republican line.

In that way, a single slate of Goldwater electors would receive votes on both lines of the ballot.

Blast Two Leaders

Voters in November do not vote directly for the presidential candidates. Instead, they vote for slates of electors who are pledged to support in the Electoral College the presidential candidate under whose name they are listed on the ballot.

Young also directed a sharp blast at two of the leaders of the Conservative party, which was formed two years ago in a reaction against what was considered to be the liberal attitudes of Gov. Rockefeller, U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, and some other GOP leaders.

Young called the Conservative party "a political blackmail racket being operated by two self-serving opportunists as the spokesmen for hundreds of thousands of sincere, conservative Republicans whose political home is in the Republican Party."

Not Identified

He did not identify the Conservative leaders to whom he referred.

In New York City Wednesday, Conservative State Chairman J. Daniel Mahoney said that if the GOP State Central Committee supports Young's opposition to a joint slate, the Conservative party will not have a slate.

This would require persons voting the Conservative ticket

Kitchen Damaged By Fire, Woman Suffers Burns

A fire resulting from an overheated refrigerator motor damaged the kitchen of the Michael Provenzano home, 188 Bruyn Avenue, this morning, and Mrs. Provenzano, 42, in a reported attempt to move the refrigerator and pull an electric plug, suffered burns of the hands face and legs.

Her condition was reported fair later today at the Benedictine Hospital. She was taken there by a Doctors' Ambulance. Two units each from Central and Wiltwyck stations, and two from Wicks Company answered a call at 9:19 a. m. with Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge. Firemen were at the scene until 9:57 a. m.

Senate Gets Bill To Up Security Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-passed bill to increase Social Security benefits headed today into a Senate fight to add to it controversial health care provisions.

The House passed the measure Wednesday, 288 to 8, without the hospitalization features for which President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy had pleaded.

The measure as it stands would give a 5 per cent raise to the 20 million Social Security retirees and admit more than half a million more persons to the rolls.

Proposed Increases

Here are a few examples of the proposed increases:

A retired worker now getting $40 monthly would get $42, one now getting $105 would get $110.30 and one now getting $127 would get $133.40.

A man and his wife now getting $60 would get $63, a couple getting $157.50 would get $165.50 and a couple now getting $190.50 would get $200.10.

Senate supporters of the administration plan, however, were already at work on amendments to write into the measure a cut-down version of the hospitalization proposal, possibly as a voluntary option for some or all of the cash increases provided.

Not in Final Form

The proposals have not been put in final form. Similar moves earlier this year by the House supporters were abandoned in the face of certain defeat by the face of certain defeat by Ways and Means Committee.

Any such provisions are sure to meet stiff opposition and might block final passage of the bill this year, especially since Congress is driving to adjourn before the Democratic National Convention begins Aug. 24.

As passed by the House, the bill would increase Social Security payments about $925 million annually by setting a new scale of $42 to $133.40 for a single worker, up to $281.20 for a family with dependent children. The maximums would go up in future years, as high as $300 for a family.

Would Step Up Tax

The bill also would step up the Social Security tax paid by employers and employees, in part

Lloyd Hearing Is Set August 13 on Span Approaches

ALBANY — J. Burch McMoran, State Superintendent of Public Works, announced today a public hearing will be held at Town of Lloyd Town Hall in Highland Monday, Aug. 13 at 1:30 p. m. to consider the proposed reconstruction of approaches to the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge leading to Poughkeepsie.

Will Relocate Routes

The proposed project involves relocating about 1.2 miles of Routes 44 and 55 between Route 9W and the west end of the bridge over the Hudson River, plus reconstructing about 0.9-mile of Route 9W from its bridge over the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad tracks southward.

Both highways are planned to be rebuilt with four-lane concrete pavements, with a four-foot-wide center median divider. Routes 44 and 55 will be relocated to the south, ending with a trumpet-type interchange about 1,400 feet south of the present traffic circle connecting the highway with Route 9W. This circle will be eliminated with the Route 9W reconstruction.

Goldwater Platform Criticized

Harlem Paying No Heed to Wilkins

NEW YORK (AP) — Civil rights leaders in some cities express reservations about a call by Negro leaders for an end to most, if not all, mass demonstrations in the nation until after election day.

The national leaders were critical of what they called the "states rights platform" adopted by the Republican convention that nominated Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for president.

Their statement, issued Wednesday night after a "summit meeting," said: "We believe that racism has been injected into the campaign by the Goldwater forces."

Urging a shift in tactics, they called for "a broad curtailment, if not total moratorium, of all mass marches, mass picketing and mass demonstrations until after election day" and more emphasis on getting more Negroes registered to vote.

No LBJ Endorsement

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, took pains to make it clear that the "summit" statement should not be interpreted as an endorsement of President Johnson's candidacy.

He also said in answer to a question that the action had not been taken in order to reduce the so-called "white backlash," described as the resentment of whites reacting to mass demonstrations by Negroes.

A spot check by The Associated Press indicated that several civil rights leaders on the local level intend to go ahead with demonstrations when they feel they are required to get results.

Harlem to Continue

Jesse Gray, leader of the Harlem rent strikes, said: "We'll continue to have demonstrations in Harlem in spite of what Wilkins says."

Gray's Community Council on Housing is under court injunction forbidding further demonstrations.

The summit statement was signed by Wilkins, Dr. Martin Luther King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Whitney M. Young, executive director of the National Urban League; and A. Philip Randolph, chairman of the Negro American Labor Council.

View of Platform

The statement described the Republican national platform as a "states rights" platform authored by "the Goldwater forces."

"The senator himself," the statement said, "maintains his position that civil rights matters should be left to the states—clear enough language for any Negro American."

80 PC Chance Now That Ranger Will Get Moon Photos

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists watched with growing elation today as Ranger 7 sailed peacefully through space with a cargo of cameras now given an 80 per cent chance of snapping history's first closeups of the moon.

Radioed information indicated all instruments aboard the 806-pound vehicle were in normal condition, including the television system designed to go into action just before impact at 8:25 a. m. Eastern Standard Time Friday.

There was no threat so far of the technical troubles that foiled six previous Ranger shots.

Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory which made and is guiding Ranger 7 on its 228,000-mile voyage, says the insect-shaped spacecraft has passed the worst of its hurdles and has a four-out-of-five chance of success.

He upped the odds from 50-50 Wednesday after a minor trajectory adjustment 100,000 miles out in space aimed Ranger 7 at a 50-by-300-mile area in the Sea of Clouds, just southwest of the center of the moon.

Ranger 7 now is cruising while scientists determine whether one final correction must be made before the space-

Both Looking To East as Battle Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater appear to be preparing to make the Eastern industrial states a prime battleground in the election campaign.

Johnson signaled his intentions with Wednesday's selection by the Democratic arrangements committee—at the President's suggestion—of liberal Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island as keynoter for the party's Atlantic City, N.J., convention which opens Aug. 24.

Still Looks to N. Y.
Goldwater told a news conference in announcing that Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania will be host at a GOP summit conference at Hershey, Pa., next month that he intends to campaign in the northeastern states.

"I don't buy the argument that we don't have potential power in New York State," he said.

Johnson's choice of Pastore, an exponent of the administration's advocacy of civil rights and social welfare legislation, to state the party's case seemed likely to jolt further the support for the President in the South.

The arrangements committee countered this by naming Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia, who has predicted the Johnson ticket will carry his state, as chairman of the convention rules committee. This put a Southerner in a key spot.

Summs Up Position
Pastore, who worked closely with Johnson when the latter was Democratic leader of the Senate, summed up his position this way: "I see eye-to-eye with the President on his program." Goldwater's choice of Ohio State Chairman Ray Bliss and former national party chairman Leonard W. Hall, a New Yorker, as members of a steering committee that will map strategy brought two veterans of industrial state politicking near the top of his campaign organization.

Wharton Scores Court Decision

Views Reapportionment As Lessening Minority Rights

Commenting on the recent Supreme Court decision bearing on the reapportionment of the New York State Legislature, Congressman J. Ernest Wharton in a statement before the House Judiciary Committee said that to require both houses of the New York State Legislature to be apportioned strictly on population alone, "amounts to a desertion of the minority rights" and completely disregards the voice of the numerous local governing bodies.

Congressman Wharton emphasized the "urgency" of Congress taking appropriate action at the earliest possible date so that the people of the United States will have an opportunity to express their desire to protect their rights both in the urban and rural sections of the states.

Testimony Given
His statement before the House Judiciary Committee follows:

"A few weeks ago the long arm of the Supreme Court of the United States reached out and handed down a decision pertaining to the composition of State Legislatures in six states, including New York."

"This decision, an interpretation of the 14th Amendment, suggests that the States of the Union do not have the authority or right to apportion one house of their legislatures on the basis of factors other than population alone.

"In the interim, a host of members of both Houses of the Congress have begun a movement which will hopefully culminate in the reversal of this decision by the adoption of a Constitutional Amendment. I am proud to identify myself with this group and urge the committee's immediate action thereon.

"Traditionally, the 14th Amendment has been viewed as an integral unit, however, this decision, if allowed to stand, would dismember it and lead to judicial oligarchy. It is to be noted that all of the original states had, as indeed does Congress itself, at least one House selected on factors other than population. It has long been recognized that within each state there exists a wide range of local characteristics involving unique history, geography, topography, climate, distribution of population, political heritage, as well as individual citizen's economic, political and social interests. While I quite agree with the Supreme Court's position that people are not acres or trees, I cannot urge too strongly the dissimilar interests of areas within the boundaries of local government.

"I doubt that there is any more classic example of this diversification than in my home state of New York. The Metropolitan Area, teeming with millions upon millions of inhabitants, faces an altogether different spectrum of problems than are met and resolved by the rest of this great state. It is commonly known that our Metropolitan population is constantly shifting, a suburb supplanted by the influx which contributes to our famous melting pot.

"Every-day press reports of violence in the streets and racial strife suggest that we have more than a local problem which can be handled by remote control with expediency by our High Court. It is also a well known fact that the sources of taxation in New York City are exhausted and have reached the saturation point. To reach out and inflict additional tax burdens upon our more conservative rural areas through a strict population representation, is not the answer.

"The Supreme Court's adoption of the slogan 'One Man, One Vote' is indeed unfortunate. History and experience dictates that governmental matters cannot be settled by rule of thumb alone and if such were the case, many of our recently admitted states would never have qualified at all. The voting power of one man in Alaska, for instance, at the time of its recent admission, was equivalent to the representation of one hundred New York State voters in the United States Senate. Indeed the composition of the U.S. Supreme Court itself is not based on the questionable principles which it now attempts to foist upon the States and their local subdivisions.

"In a bicameral legislature, as in Congress, one body may properly be elected on a basis of population, but to require that both Houses of the New York State Legislature be apportioned strictly on population alone, amounts to a desertion of the minority rights and completely disregards the voice of the numerous local governing bodies.

"I again emphasize the urgency of Congress taking appropriate action at the earliest possible date so that the people of these great United States will have the opportunity to express their desire to protect their rights both in the urban and rural sections of the states."

Overbid by One, Then Double Fool

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The late Lee Langdon had an interesting theory about competitive part-score bidding. It was to bid one more than you really should and then double your opponent to make sure that your partner wouldn't bid any more.

It worked beautifully for Lee who was a great expert in judging close situations but, even when it works, this system is not recommended.

Of course, in match point duplicate when your opponents are vulnerable such doubles merely lead to a top or bottom score depending on whether or not they work.

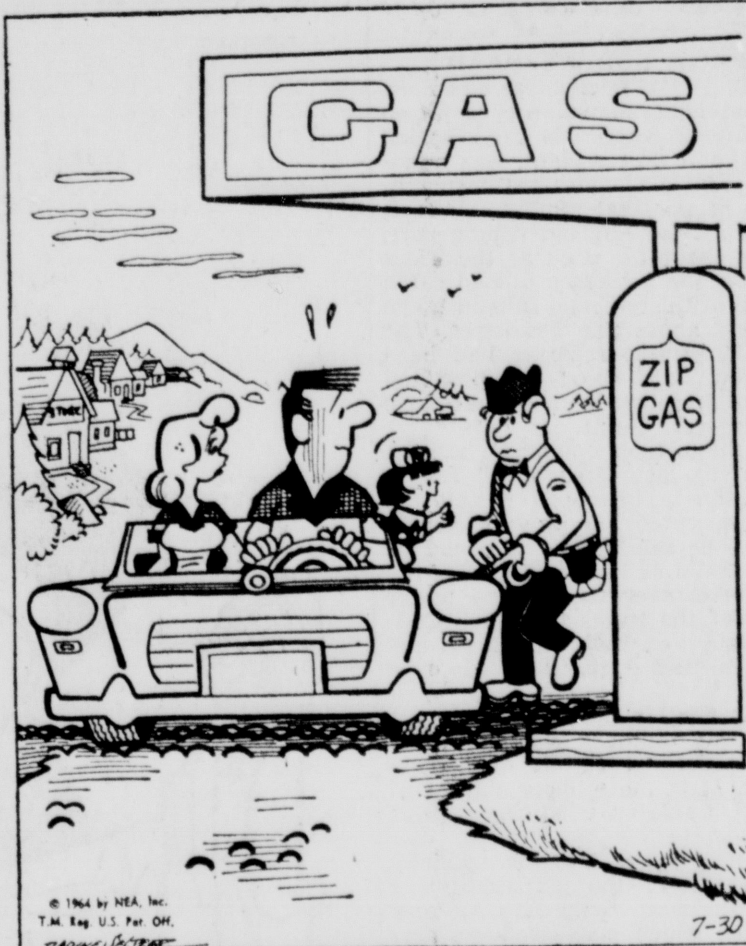

West's double of three diamonds was a conspicuously bad example of this bid, but it worked, so probably West will continue to try such bids.

He opened the ace of spades and East played the three. This wasn't a suit preference signal. East just did not want another spade led but West shifted to the ten of clubs anyway. He wanted to get his partner in twice and there was a chance that East would hold both ace and king of clubs.

East did have the ace and won the trick. Then he returned

TAX STRUCTURE

"Tax Structure" it's a simple term but sometimes not so simple to define or to understand. "Taken from the top" tax structure means all taxes paid by all taxpayers at all levels of government. That means all taxes paid by all the people to all units of government—the federal government, the state government and, in New York State, the 7,756 counties, cities, towns, villages, schools and special districts.

Why must the taxes paid to all levels of government be included when studying a state structure? Simply because of the intermingling of tax revenues between levels of government through shared revenues and grants-in-aid and the intermingling of the administrative levels of each which are involved in the functions of government—Public Health, Public Welfare, Education, Highways, etc.

And of course the types of taxes used by each are overlapping—both the federal government and the State use the income tax and excise taxes, mostly selective sales taxes such as the gas tax, cigarette tax, liquor tax, etc.

Here according to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, is the tax sequence used in defining a tax structure which finances all government spending. Seventy-two per cent of federal government spending is financed by income taxes, 16 per cent by excise taxes, 8.8 per cent by borrowing this year (that is the estimated federal deficit for fiscal 1964) and about 3 per cent from miscellaneous revenues.

The State of New York receives 41 per cent of its revenues from the state income tax, 21 per cent from general business taxes, 23 per cent from excise taxes and licenses, 11 per cent from other taxes and 4 per cent from miscellaneous revenues.

Forty-five per cent of local government revenues comes from the property tax, and 30 per cent from the state and federal governments. The remaining 25 per cent comes from a multitude of local sources such as sales taxes, admission taxes, fees, licenses, parking meters, revenue from city-owned utilities, etc.

Tax dollars collected by the federal government filter down to state and local governments as "federal aid," and taxes collected by the State are re-distributed to the local governments. Approximately 57 per cent of the State's expenditures is for local assistance.

Confusing but all very important when trying to maintain a proper tax structure which will adequately finance needed government without burdening the taxpayer—business or individual—with more than a just share of taxes. All the taxes imposed by the different layers of government tap the pockets of the same taxpayers.

DEMOCRATS SKIRMISHING

One of the myths of American politics is that, once a party convention has chosen its nominee for the presidency, said nominee can name anyone he likes to be his running mate. Though it is true that the presidential candidate has a strong voice in this and generally has the final say, history shows that the matter is not quite as simple as surface indications suggest.

There is, in the first place, the pre-convention skirmishing. So far as the Democratic party is concerned, this has already been going on for some months. Though Attorney General Kennedy and Senator Humphrey are front-runners, this will be no simple business of choosing between them. President Johnson has from time to time hinted interest in numerous other political figures, including Sargent Shriver of the Peace Corps, Senator McCarthy, Defense Secretary McNamara and Ambassador Stevenson.

These and other possibilities have their advocates. So, notably, do the attorney general and Senator Humphrey. Though advocacy must be conducted for the most part beneath the surface and is thus rarely visible to the public, it goes on. Then we come to the convention. Even

'These Days'

THE VIEW FROM BODEGA HEAD

Bodega Bay, Calif.—The Pacific Gas and Electric Company man standing above an open pit on fog-swept Bodega Head, where his organization hopes to build an atomic power plant, was minding his manners. A couple of miles to the north, across a little harbor that reminds an easterner irresistibly of a New England fishing port, people were milling about the dock at the Tides Wharf Cafe, watching the fishermen unload catch after catch of beautiful thirty-pound salmon taken in the coastal waters above San Francisco. The P.G. and E. man knew this reporter had been talking with the townsfolk about the proposed atomic plant, and he presumably knew that more were against it than were for it.

"They have a right to their opinions," he said. "We don't complain against democracy." But it was clear that eventually he hoped to get the case for the plant accepted. "If only it doesn't get into the courts," he said. "Then it would be ten years before we could build it and operate it."

The political quarrel over the Bodega power plant seems typical of the issues that rend California. Like the question of water utilization and the question of the cutting of the redwoods on a controlled basis, the Bodega issue involves intricate problems of a scientific nature as they get "brokered through" to millions who wouldn't know a curie (a measure of atomic disintegration) from a carrot. It is the millions untutored in science who must decide on what the experts propose.

The Bodega atomic power issue is specially touchy because the site of the proposed plant lies just a shade to the west of the San Andreas earthquake fault line, which once produced tremors that devastated San Francisco. You can find seismologists and geologists who swear that a containment system for an atomic plant can be made absolutely safe against even a major slippage of the earth. And in any case sediments laid down at Bodega Bay some forty thousand years ago on granitic rock have not faulted significantly.

But other experts stress the fact that earthquakes are always incalculable. If a quake should split a reactor, so James E. McDonald, an Arizona University physicist, says, the "lid" of warm air that hangs over Bodega Head in summer would keep escaping radioactive gases from rising and would deflect them over the San Francisco Bay area at night when the wind currents move to the south. Millions would be poisoned.

The townspeople in Bodega Bay don't "dig" the more intricate pro and con arguments about geological fault lines and atomic fission. A fisherman says, "It's all just a case of the almighty dollar. The real estate people are scared that atomic scares will keep them from selling waterfront property."

The fisherman, a grizzled ancient, seemed more impressed with the conservationist argument than with the safety argument against putting up the atomic power plant in Bodega. Bodega Head had been earmarked at one time for a state park, according to the fisherman, and the people certainly had a right of access to the coast. (P.G. and E., to give the company its due, has promised to make its own public park at Bodega Head.) The fisherman was all for conservation in everything. He quickly veered from questions of atomic safety to what the Japanese fishermen, who use nets, are going to decimate the salmon at a time when American fishermen are compelled by U.S. law to limit their catch to what can be landed by conventional lines.

When questioned about atomic danger in the future, Bodega Bay people on the drier displayed the impassiveness of a Sicilian peasant watching Mt. Aetna. But the conservationist and the real estate sales angles produced quick reactions generally.

The ironic oddity in all this is that conservationists ought to be for atomic energy plants. They reduce air pollution. They do not require unsightly piles of coal or tanks for oil. They do not burn up the natural resources of the earth at the same rate as coal or oil-fired plants.

So it will be unfortunate if the conservationist argument should be the one to defeat the P.G. and E. at Bodega. The question of permission to operate an atomic plant on Bodega Head should be decided on safety considerations alone. And as to the hazards of earthquake, who can say? This columnist, if he were a Californian, would like everybody else in the State, have to cast his vote on a pure hunch in a case where the experts flamboyantly disagree.

The DOCTOR SAYS

'Frosted Tummy' Is New Treatment for Ulcers

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D., Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Some time ago I reported on the new treatment for peptic ulcer which has come to be known as the frosted tummy technique. This consists of introducing a balloon into the stomach and circulating a refrigerant through the balloon for 45 minutes at a temperature between minus 4 and plus 18 degrees F., thereby freezing the stomach.

In the past two years the method has been widely used and a clearer picture of the value of this procedure is beginning to emerge.

In most of those whose stomachs were frozen there was prompt relief of pain and suppression of the secretion of hydrochloric acid by the stomach. The stomach acids returned in from six weeks to six months, a period sufficient in any case to allow the ulcer to heal. In a fairly large proportion of these subjects a second freezing was necessary to produce these results and a few required three or more freezings.

The suppression of the acid did not interfere with digestion because all the important digestive enzymes are supplied at a level below the outlet of the stomach. This technique has its drawbacks, however. It is always followed by some bleeding from the stomach wall. This stomach bleeding usually clears up in a few days without any treatment. Freezing may also be followed by an ulcer of the stomach wall but this too usually heals spontaneously. Less frequently the freezing may cause stricture or obstruction either at the opening of the esophagus into the stomach or of the stomach into the duodenum.

Because of these complications it is necessary to select carefully the persons on whom to use gastric freezing. This technique is not used on those whose ulcer is deep or on those who already have some obstruction of the outlet of the stomach. It has its greatest value in the treatment of those who have chronic ulcers that have responded poorly to diet and medical treatment and who are poor risks for surgical operation.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT, Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CHICAGO (NEA)—The evening was hot, still, and so humid a man's elbow stuck to a magazine as he leaned on a side table. Yet a cluster of Sen. Barry Goldwater's followers leaped to the challenge to say what they would have him do if he were to become president.

Gathered in a spacious private home, speaking freely and earnestly to pointed inquiries designed to draw them out, these folk swiftly indicated that Goldwater to them is not the advocate of a positive program etched in clear specifics.

HE IS SEEN LESS as a prime mover than as a road block—a hope, perhaps their last hope, of slowing if not arresting the Negro revolution of deflating the balloon of big government, of introducing into high councils a refreshing honesty and candor. Said one tanned, articulate woman: "Goldwater is a rugged, red-blooded American who will stand up and tell everybody to go to hell."

Another woman, slim and bespectacled, added: "He would act as president as we think we would act if we were in there."

At the core of these attitudes is the strongly held notion that Barry Goldwater, who won the 1964 GOP nomination through some of the most skillful political planning in years, is above ordinary politics. To these followers he is a man apart, who stands clean, fresh, untouched by the sordid deals

What if Goldwater should win election only to slip into the standard presidential mold these followers dislike so heartily?

Those gathered in that Chicago living room would not hesitate to stamp him a failure if he did that, still, they evidently would feel better that their very different sort of hero had gotten his chance.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

From time to time Harley Bishop of Wall Street sends me interesting items. One item is from the Kingston Daily Leader of Oct. 1, 1937 which contains a full page article by then Chief of Police Allan Wood, covering the history of the police department and with many portraits including, the author, J. Allan Wood, Peter Keresman, James V. Simpson, Winfield Entrott, Fred Stoudt, William Reardon, Peter Camp and also the original force of men. I noticed the other evening, that the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of 235 Fair Street had a very exciting display of historic local police items in their show windows, but due to the shrubbery, one could not get close enough to read the information.

I see in this 1937 Kingston Friday Leader, a large advertisement from the Great Bull Markets. Sugar could be had, American refined, at 100 pounds for $4.90 and a 10 pound cloth sack for 49 cents. A well known brand of coffee, ground or drip was 26 cents a pound. Sweet potatoes were 10 pounds for 17 cents, and pure rub land was 14 cents a pound. Fresh sauerkraut was going for 5 cents a pound. Flat flounders were selling for 12 cents a pound, and frankfurts were 19 cents a pound. A carton of popular brand cigarettes were selling for $1.15, and you could buy a box of popular cigars, 50's for 93 cents. They even sold at this store, well known brand of green or red slate roofing a roll $1.98. A 50-inch oil cloth could be had for 27 cents a yard. Old fashioned Limburger cheese was 23 cents a pound, and beer cheese 29 cents a pound, right here in Kingston in 1937.

Mr. Bishop also sent me a bill head from J. H. Roosa, painting and decorating, dealer in wall paper, moldings, paints and varnishes, plain and fancy signs a specialty, with Kingston office at 159 Fair Street. This firm was established in 1860. I see a part of a sheet was cut out of a fashion book of April 1891, the outside of which was used to sketch "The Rob of Rondout" by I think the signature is "Neal C." and it is dated Sunday, Nov. 17, 07, of 159 Fair Street. The sketch shows the Rob going ahead with great assurance, and sketch is neatly done, by someone who I think knew something about boats and liked them. It would be nice for framing in a little frame.

James G. Linsley, wrote in Picturesque Ulster, published in Kingston by the Styles and Bryn Publishing Company in 1894. This set of books was compiled by R. Lionel De Liser, a graduate of the Royal Bavarian Academy of High Arts, Munich. Mr. Bishop sent me one on the City of Kingston, No. 2. This is what the first Mayor of Kingston, J. G. Linsley wrote in part: "But few localities have as unique a history as that known as Rondout, which can boast as being the earliest as well as the latest part in the settlement of the City of Kingston." He goes on to explain the meaning of The Strand, the sunken meadow below, and the rocks along the channel above, as well as from the sand washing down with a stream coming from the large spring, where Spring Street now is, formed a beach, hence the name. The Strand, because boats could be stranded, for at first there were no wharves. For a long time there were regular lines of sloops running from these landings. Before the building of the D&H Canal, there were two lines of sloops running from The Strand. Abraham Hasbrouck owned one line, and Major Swarts the other.

It Takes More Than Laws To Uproot Deep Prejudice

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The racial problem in America isn't going to be solved by any laws or court decrees or by government handout of money. Delay in ameliorating the whole situation will be prolonged, largely because the true nature of the conflict is not generally understood.

Government can improve the economic lot of some layers of the population, but it cannot help those who are indolent or incompetent. Nor can government abolish discrimination or a sense of inferiority merely by decreeing that there shall be "equality."

Not many years ago a Negro poet of prominence wrote to this effect: "We don't really want to be just 'equal'—we want to be white." Yet assimilation of the races has proceeded very slowly throughout the world. Many of the better-educated Negroes in America have achieved a high status in their communities, but even they are not free from the barbs of discrimination under certain circumstances.

Only those human beings of any color or race or creed who have suffered the pangs of bitterness that arise when discrimination confronts them can understand what is at the bottom of the whole racial conflict today.

It is not the problem of any one country. The London Daily Telegraph on Monday had a big headline on its front page about the riots in Rochester—a community which, by the way, has done much in recent years to advance the cause of the Negro in employment and in community life. The Telegraph said editorially:

"It is a salutary coincidence that racial rioting in Singapore should have been taking place at the same time as the outbreaks in New York State and City. In British Guiana, too, political rivalry has become crystallized as a clash between Indian and Negro. All this violence, in widely differing circumstances, is a manifestation of tribal savagism that survives even in the most advanced societies; mistrust of the stranger, however thoroughly established, as long as he can be identified by the color of his skin or some other outward characteristic. Of course, this produces a reaction by the 'strangers,' the more violent as they begin to claim their rights and to feel their strength.

"That is what is happening now in the United States, although in Rochester as in Harlem there has been a large injection of senseless hoodligan-violence, without any motivation of conscious social protest. This element will be found in any such situation—as well as more sinister figures provoking or exploiting the trouble. Liberal ordinances are not, by themselves, an effective prophylactic. The civil rights only just won for the American South are already enjoyed by the Negroes who have been rioting in New York City and State.

And Nottingham, we in Britain cannot claim to be free from color prejudice. It is a challenge to the liberal outlook everywhere—but a challenge to the head no less than to the heart.

"Prejudice cannot be legislated away. The sensible thing therefore, is to admit its existence and take measures to avoid its violent manifestation."

What is the answer? A change in human nature? And how can this be accomplished? Unfortunately, most of the churches have muffed the ball. Sincerely desirous of achieving "civil rights" for all, the big church organizations have mistakenly chosen to operate by political methods and demonstrations. This has served in many cases only to intensify the situation. For preachers to argue that "civil disobedience" is justified helps to encourage those who would resort to violence.

Negro churchmen themselves have faced a difficult conflict. They have been denounced by their parishioners for failing to take any aggressive stand in the controversy. James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said on the TV program "Face the Nation" last Sunday:

"... The Negro community in the South is centered around the Negro church, and thus it is considerably easier to maintain the non-violent emphasis than in the North. Now, the word 'non-violence' in Harlem is a very bad word indeed. It is possible to point out that one cannot fight guns with bottles. It is possible to point out that we will be shot down, that we are outnumbered, and thus we cannot effectively fight back with violence. But it is impossible for one to get a hearing, an audience, or any communication if he speaks of turning the other cheek."

Plainly, there is much to be done by preachers of every creed to persuade people everywhere that to rely on the divine spirit for guidance is a prerequisite to the winning of justice from other citizens. While physical force may for the moment satisfy passions of anger, it does not solve anything. Churchmen and spiritually minded laymen have the principal mission in the turbulent society of our day—and it's going to require a long time and plenty of patience to get results.

The State of New York receives 41 per cent of its revenues from the state income tax, 21 per cent from general business taxes, 23 per cent from excise taxes and licenses, 11 per cent from other taxes and 4 per cent from miscellaneous revenues.

Forty-five per cent of local government revenues comes from the property tax, and 30 per cent from the state and federal governments. The remaining 25 per cent comes from a multitude of local sources such as sales taxes, admission taxes, fees, licenses, parking meters, revenue from city-owned utilities, etc.

Tax dollars collected by the federal government filter down to state and local governments as "federal aid," and taxes collected by the State are re-distributed to the local governments. Approximately 57 per cent of the State's expenditures is for local assistance.

Confusing but all very important when trying to maintain a proper tax structure which will adequately finance needed government without burdening the taxpayer—business or individual—with more than a just share of taxes. All the taxes imposed by the different layers of government tap the pockets of the same taxpayers.

DEMOCRATS SKIRMISHING

One of the myths of American politics is that, once a party convention has chosen its nominee for the presidency, said nominee can name anyone he likes to be his running mate. Though it is true that the presidential candidate has a strong voice in this and generally has the final say, history shows that the matter is not quite as simple as surface indications suggest.

There is, in the first place, the pre-convention skirmishing. So far as the Democratic party is concerned, this has already been going on for some months. Though Attorney General Kennedy and Senator Humphrey are front-runners, this will be no simple business of choosing between them. President Johnson has from time to time hinted interest in numerous other political figures, including Sargent Shriver of the Peace Corps, Senator McCarthy, Defense Secretary McNamara and Ambassador Stevenson.

These and other possibilities have their advocates. So, notably, do the attorney general and Senator Humphrey. Though advocacy must be conducted for the most part beneath the surface and is thus rarely visible to the public, it goes on.

Then we come to the convention. Even

THE VIEW FROM BODEGA HEAD

Bodega Bay, Calif.—The Pacific Gas and Electric Company man standing above an open pit on fog-swept Bodega Head, where his organization hopes to build an atomic power plant, was minding his manners. A couple of miles to the northeast, across a little harbor that reminds an easterner irresistibly of a New England fishing port, people were milling about the dock at the Tides Wharf Cafe, watching the fishermen unload catch after catch of beautiful thirty-pound salmon taken in the coastal waters above San Francisco.

P.G. and E. man knew this reporter had been talking with the townsfolk about the proposed atomic plant, and he presumably knew that more were against it than were for it.

"They have a right to their opinions," he said. "We don't complain against democracy." But it was clear that eventually he hoped to get the case for the plant accepted. "If only it doesn't get into the courts," he said. "Then it would be ten years before we could build it and operate it."

The political quarrel over the Bodega power plant seems typical of the issues that rend California. Like the question of water utilization and the question of the cutting of the redwoods on a controlled basis, the Bodega issue involves intricate problems of a scientific nature as they get "brokered" through to millions who wouldn't know a curie (a measure of atomic disintegration) from a carrot. It is the millions untutored in science who must decide on what the experts propose.

The Bodega atomic power issue is especially touchy because the site of the proposed plant lies just a shade to the west of the San Andreas earthquake fault line, which once produced tremors that devastated San Francisco. You can find seismologists and geologists who swear that a containment system for an atomic plant can be made absolutely safe against even a major slipage of the earth. And in any case sediments laid down at Bodega Bay some forty thousand years ago on granitic rock have not faulted significantly.

But other experts stress the fact that earthquakes are always incalculable. If a quake should split a reactor, so James E. McDonald, an Arizona University physicist, says, the "lid" of warm air that hangs over Bodega Head in summer would keep escaping radioactive gases from rising and would deflect them over the San Francisco Bay area at night when the wind currents move to the south. Millions would be poisoned.

The townspeople in Bodega Bay don't "dig" the more intricate pro and con arguments about geological fault lines and atomic fission. A fisherman says, "It's all just a case of the almighty dollar. The real estate people are scared that atomic scares will keep them from selling waterfront property."

The fisherman, a grizzled ancient, seemed more impressed with the conservationist argument than with the safety argument against putting up the atomic power plant in Bodega. Bodega Head had been earmarked at one time for a state park, according to the fisherman, and the people certainly had a right of access to the coast. (P.G. and E., to give the company its due, has promised to make its own public park at Bodega Head.) The fisherman was all for conservation in everything. He quickly veered from questions of atomic safety to what the Japanese fishermen, who use nets, are going to do to the salmon at a time when American fishermen are compelled by U.S. law to limit their catch to what can be landed by conventional lines.

When questioned about atomic danger in the future, Bodega Bay people on the wharf displayed the impassiveness of a Sicilian peasant watching Mt. Aetna. But the conservationist and the real estate sales angles produced quick reactions generally.

The ironic oddity in all this is that conservationists ought to be for atomic energy plants. They reduce air pollution. They do not require unsightly piles of coal or tanks for oil. They do not burn up the natural resources of the earth at the same rate as coal or oil-fired plants.

So it will be unfortunate if the conservationist argument should be the one to defeat the P.G. and E. at Bodega. The question of permission to operate an atomic plant on Bodega Head should be decided on safety considerations alone. And as to the hazards of earthquake, who can say? This columnist, if he were a Californian, would like everybody else in the State, have to cast his vote on a pure hunch in a case where the experts flamboyantly disagree.

The DOCTOR SAYS

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Some time ago I reported on the new treatment for peptic ulcer which has come to be known as the frosted tummy technique. This consists of introducing a balloon into the stomach and circulating a refrigerant through the balloon for 45 minutes at a temperature between minus 4 and plus 18 degrees F., thereby freezing the stomach.

In the past two years the method has been widely used and a clearer picture of the value of this procedure is beginning to emerge.

In most of those whose stomachs were frozen there was prompt relief of pain and suppression of the secretion of hydrochloric acid by the stomach. The stomach acids returned in from six weeks to six months—a period sufficient in any case to allow the ulcer to heal. In a fairly large proportion of these subjects a second freezing was necessary to produce these results and a few required three or more freezings.

The suppression of the acid did not interfere with digestion because all the important digestive enzymes are supplied at a level below the outlet of the stomach.

This technique has its drawbacks, however. It is always followed by some bleeding from the stomach wall. This stomach bleeding usually clears up in a few days without any treatment. Freezing may also be followed by an ulcer of the stomach wall but this too usually heals spontaneously. Less frequently the freezing may cause stricture or obstruction either at the opening of the esophagus into the stomach or of the stomach into the duodenum.

Because of these complications it is necessary to select carefully the persons on whom to use gastric freezing. This technique is not used on those whose ulcer is deep or on those who already have some obstruction of the outlet of the stomach. It has its greatest value in the treatment of those who have chronic ulcers that have responded poorly to diet and medical treatment and who are poor risks for surgical operation.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

this year's Democratic gathering, with a President of exceptional popularity and political skill at the helm, will not necessarily behave like a monolithic unit. Special interests and sectional interests will seek to exert influence. There is bound to be some infighting at the convention, and this year the vice presidential nomination will be its focal point. President Johnson will ultimately name the man he wants to run with him. But his choice is certainly not going to be made in a political vacuum.

A campaign is on to save the whooping crane from extinction. Next in line for this treatment ought to be the independent man.

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CHICAGO (NEA)—The evening was hot, still, and so humid a man's elbow stuck to a magazine as he leaned on a side table. Yet a cluster of Sen. Barry Goldwater's followers leaped to the challenge to say what they would have him do if he were to become president.

Gathered in a spacious private home, speaking freely and earnestly to pointed inquiries designed to draw them out, these folk swiftly indicated that Goldwater to them is not the advocate of a positive program etched in clear specifics.

HE IS SEEN LESS as a prime mover than as a road block—a hope, perhaps their last hope, of slowing if not arresting the Negro revolution, of deflating the balloon of big government, of introducing into high councils a refreshing honesty and candor.

Said one tanned, articulate woman: "Goldwater is a rugged, red-blooded American who will stand up and tell everybody to go to hell."

Another woman, slim and bespectacled, added: "He would act as president as we think we would act if we were in there."

At the core of these attitudes is the strongly held notion that Barry Goldwater, who won the 1964 GOP nomination through some of the most skillful political planning in years, is above ordinary politics.

To these followers he is a man apart, who stands clean, fresh, untouched by the sordid deals and compromises which sully the image of many politicians.

Frankly distressed at the 30-year course of history, acknowledging membership in the Federation of the Fed-Up, these people cling to Goldwater as the only thing different to come over the horizon in years.

IT IS THIS DIFFERENCE in his make-up which gives rise to their faith that he possibly can succeed, where all others have failed, in checking the political, economic and social tides of which they disapprove.

"At least he'll try," was one comment, not uncommon. "And someone ought to try."

Here a paradox is noted. Bent hard against the upward sweep of big government, these people would look to a President Goldwater, a federal official, to attack virtually every complaint they have in an age they find frustrating.

Some of these Goldwater backers doubt that he can pass all the reverse-English miracles they would like to see. But they still want him in the White House as a kind of rear-guard commander.

THERE IS RECOGNITION that some of today's tides may simply be too strong for even the best-intended opponent of change. Speaking of Negro advances, a woman said feelingly:

"We may be in a social revolution, a revolution future historians may say is both good and necessary. But I don't like it."

She does not really expect, then, to have this revolution nullified. But Barry Goldwater is her man to reduce its speed.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The racial problem in America isn't going to be solved by any laws or court decrees or by government handout of money. Delay in ameliorating the whole situation will be prolonged, largely because the true nature of the conflict is not generally understood.

Government can improve the economic lot of some layers of the population, but it cannot help those who are indolent or incompetent. Nor can government abolish discrimination or a sense of inferiority merely by decreeing that there shall be "equality."

Not many years ago a Negro poet of prominence wrote to this effect: "We don't really want to be just 'equal'—we want to be white." Yet assimilation of the races has proceeded very slowly throughout the world. Many of the better-educated Negroes in America have achieved a high status in their communities, but even they are not free from the barbs of discrimination under certain circumstances.

Only those human beings of any color or race or creed who have suffered the pangs of bitterness that arise when discrimination confronts them can understand what is at the bottom of the whole racial conflict today.

It is not the problem of any one country. The London Daily Telegraph on Monday had a big headline on its front page about the riots in Rochester—a community which, by the way, has done much in recent years to advance the cause of the Negro in employment and in community life. The Telegraph said editorially:

"It is a salutary coincidence that racial rioting in Singapore should have been taking place at the same time as the outbreaks in New York State and City. In British Guiana, too, political rivalry has become crystallized as a clash between Indian and Negro. All this violence, in widely differing circumstances, is a manifestation of the tribal savagism that survives even to make it less irritating and more comfortable to live with. What if Goldwater should win election only to slip into the standard presidential mold these followers dislike so heartily? Those gathered in that Chicago living room would not hesitate to stamp him a failure if he did that. Still, they evidently would feel better that their very different sort of hero had gotten his chance.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

From time to time Harley Bishop of Wall Street sends me interesting items. One item is from the Kingston Daily Leader of Oct. 1, 1937 which contains a full page article by then Chief of Police Allan Wood, covering the history of the police department and with many portraits including, the author, J. Allan Wood, Peter Keresman, James V. Simpson, Winfield Entrott, Fred Stoudt, William Reardon, Peter Camp and also the original force of men. I noticed the other evening, that the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of 235 Fair Street had a very exciting display of historic local police items in their show windows, but due to the shabbiness, one could not get close enough to read the information.

I see in this 1937 Kingston Friday Leader, a large advertisement from the Great Bull Markets. Sugar could be had, American refined, at 100 pounds for $4.90 and a 10 pound cloth sack for 49 cents. A well known brand of coffee, ground or drip was 26 cents a pound. Sweet potatoes were 10 pounds for 17 cents and pure tub lard was 14 cents a pound. Fresh sauerkraut was going for 5 cents a pound. Flat flounders were selling for 12 cents a pound, and frankfurters were 19 cents a pound. A carton of popular brand cigarettes were selling for $1.15, and you could buy a box of popular cigars, 50's for 93 cents. They even sold at this store, well known brand of green or red slate roofing a roll $1.98. A 50-inch oil cloth could be had for 27 cents a yard. Old fashioned Limburger cheese was 23 cents a pound, and beer cheese 29 cents a pound, right here in Kingston in 1937.

Mr. Bishop also sent me a wall head from J. Roosa, painting and decorating dealer in wall paper, moldings, paints and varnishes, plain and fancy signs a specialty, with Kingston office at 159 Fair Street. This firm was established in 1860. I see a part of a sheet was cut out of a fashion book of April 1891, the outside of which was used to sketch "The Rob-of-Rondout" by I think the signature is "Neal C." and it is dated Sunday, Nov. 17, 07, of 159 Fair Street. The sketch shows the Rob going ahead with great assurance, and sketch is neatly done, by someone who I think knew something about boats and liked them. It would be nice for framing in a little frame.

James G. Linsley, wrote in Picturesque Ulster, published in Kingston by the Styles and Bruyn Publishing Company in 1894. This set of books was compiled by R. Lionel De Lissar, a graduate of the Royal Bavarian Academy of Fine Arts, Munich. Mr. Bishop sent me one on the City of Kingston, No. 2. This is what the first Mayor of Kingston, J. G. Linsley wrote in part: "But few localities have as unique a history as that known as Rondout, which can boast as being the earliest as well as the latest part in the settlement of the City of Kingston." He goes on to explain the meaning of The Strand, the sunken meadow below, and the rocks along the channel above, as well as from the sand washing down with a stream coming from the large spring, where Spring Street now is, formed a beach, hence the name. The Strand, because boats could be stranded, for at first there were no wharves. For a long time there were regular lines of sloops running from these landings. Before the building of the D&H Canal, there were two lines of sloops running from The Strand. Abraham Hasbrouck owned one line, and Major Swarts the other.

Plenty, there is much to be done by preachers of every creed to persuade people everywhere that to rely on the divine spirit for guidance is a prerequisite to the winning of justice from other citizens. Churchmen and spiritually minded laymen have the principal mission in the turbulent society of our day—and it's going to require a long time and plenty of patience to get results.

NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest loss of U.S. gold in a year points up the troublesome fact that the battle of the deficits still isn't won. But the dollar's name is so good now that the $70-million gold drain in June, reported this week by the Federal Reserve Board, doesn't worry the money managers the way it would have a year ago.

Instead, most of the worry now is concentrated on still another crisis building up for the British pound sterling. And financial circles here as well as abroad wait anxiously to see if the Bank of England will prop the pound by raising interest rates again.

Would Add to Problem

This would add to America's deficit problem by tempting investors with idle dollars to ship them abroad to get higher yields than available here.

The American problem is that despite a surplus of exports over imports, the total outflow of dollars continues greater than the inflow. Last year the loss was $3.3 billion. So far this year the deficit is estimated to have been cut to an annual rate of around $2 billion.

In terms of gold this means that as these surplus dollars pile up aboard some of them can be turned in to the U.S. Treasury for gold, and our reserves drop.

The latest figures on this official reserve put it at $15.46 billion, down only slightly from the year ago figure of $15.63 billion. The June loss of $70 million was in a special exchange stabilization fund, unreported in the official reserve figures. This special fund can draw on the official reserve when necessary, but its main purpose is to prevent wide swings either way in the value of the dollar in terms of other currencies as international payments vary from month to month.

France Steady Buyer

Gold losses of the fund this year have been $56 million in January, $22 million in February, $34 million in May and $70 million in June. But the fund gained by an inflow of $32 million in gold in March and $177 million in April.

France is a fairly steady buyer of U.S. gold, getting around $100 million every three months. This has been offset by U.S. purchases of gold this year, part of it stemming back to Soviet selling of gold to buy grain.

Britain's currency problem is of a more serious nature. Its imports have been rising and its exports have fallen behind. It now runs a trade deficit, contrasted to the U.S. trade surplus; and the pound sterling has been weakening in the international money markets. This is the seventh such sterling crisis since World War II.

To curb inflationary trends at home and loss of reserves, the Bank of England in February raised to 5 per cent from 4 per cent its bank rate — the charge for lending to British banks which acts as a guide for all interest rates there. Now there is talk that the rate may go up again, to 5½ per cent, and some say even to 6 per cent.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest loss of U.S. gold in a year points up the troublesome fact that the battle of the deficits still isn't won. But the dollar's name is so good now that the $70-million gold drain in June, reported this week by the Federal Reserve Board, doesn't worry the money managers the way it would have a year ago.

Instead, most of the worry now is concentrated on still another crisis building up for the British pound sterling. And financial circles here as well as abroad wait anxiously to see if the Bank of England will prop the pound by raising interest rates again.

Would Add to Problem
This would add to America's deficit problem by tempting investors with idle dollars to ship them abroad to get higher yields than available here.

The American problem is that despite a surplus of exports over imports, the total outflow of dollars continues greater than the inflow. Last year the loss was $3.3 billion. So far this year the deficit is estimated to have been cut to an annual rate of around $2 billion.

In terms of gold this means that as these surplus dollars pile up aboard some of them can be turned in to the U.S. Treasury for gold, and our reserves drop. The latest figures on this official reserve put it at $15.46 billion, down only slightly from the year ago figure of $15.63 billion.

The June loss of $70 million was in a special exchange stabilization fund, unreported in the official reserve figures. This special fund can draw on the official reserve when necessary, but its main purpose is to prevent wide swings either way in the value of the dollar in terms of other currencies as international payments vary from month to month.

France Steady Buyer
Gold losses of the fund this year have been $56 million in January, $22 million in February, $34 million in May and $70 million in June. But the fund gained by an inflow of $32 million in gold in March and $177 million in April.

France is a fairly steady buyer of U.S. gold, getting around $100 million every three months. This has been offset by U.S. purchases of gold this year, part of it stemming back to Soviet selling of gold to buy grain.

Britain's currency problem is of a more serious nature. Its imports have been rising and its exports have fallen behind. It now runs a trade deficit, contrasted to the U.S. trade surplus; and the pound sterling has been weakening in the international money markets. This is the seventh such sterling crisis since World War II.

To curb inflationary trends at home and loss of reserves, the Bank of England in February raised to 5 per cent from 4 per cent its bank rate — the charge for lending to British banks which acts as a guide for all interest rates there. Now there is talk that the rate may go up again, to 5½ per cent, and some say even to 6 per cent.

Hurricane Planes Eye Tropical Storm

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Aircraft kept an eye today on an easterly wave far out in the Atlantic Ocean that the Weather Bureau said was "within splitting distance" of becoming the season's first tropical storm.

Hurricane hunter planes reported Wednesday the disturbance intensified little.

A Weather Bureau official said conditions did not indicate any rapid or significant intensification.

Highest winds in the wave were estimated at 40 to 50 miles an hour in heavier squalls.

Rising Sun Camp Boys From Foreign Lands at Rotary

George Jonas, who for the past 35 years has been conducting The Rising Sun Camp at Rock City, Dutchess County, made his annual visit to the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday. He was accompanied by three guests at the camp.

The camp, which is a non-commercialized project conducted by Mr. Jonas, has as its guests boys from 50 different countries. Meeting in an atmosphere of good will and understanding, these boys of high school age have the opportunity to exchange ideas which result in mutual respect.

A Hudson Valley International Youth Day gives young people of this area also an opportunity to join in the discussions of problems and the exchange of ideas. Mr. Jonas invites interested local young people to visit the camp.

camp at the Rotary luncheon were Jukka Haapasalo of Finland, Olajide Olorunfemi of Nigeria and Honey Abdel-Monem Khallaf of the United Arab Republic of Egypt.

The boys described their respective countries and outlined the history and government, resources and industries, exports and imports, relations with Russia and the United States and education and religion.

President Bolz presented the students with a Kingston Rotary banner to forward to the Rotary Club of their community when they return home.

Beatles Movie Could Be Year's Surprise Flicker

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "A Hard Day's Night," starring the Beatles, may well be the surprise film of the year. The surprise is that it is good.

Movies designed to cash in on the curiosity value of headline personalities have traditionally been slapdash affairs that have pleased nothing beyond curiosity.

Qualified Entertainers
It was therefore only natural that a reviewer would approach "A Hard Day's Night" expecting little more than the tape recording of an orgiastic Beatle concert which was shown in theaters two months ago.

The film turns out to be considerably more than that. The unshorn quartet may be with us for a long time to come, not as freaks but as qualified entertainers.

Producer Walter Shenson and writer Alun Owen wisely chose to forego any semblance of a plot. They portray John, Paul, George and Ringo — that's the order of their billing — as what they are: Beatles.

What impels the flimsy craft along is the introduction of the character of Paul's grandfather, an over-age rake played with delicate skill by Wilfrid Brambell. His mischief-making adds to the travails suffered by the Beatles at the hands of their fanatical fans.

The movie opens with a mad scramble by the foursome to escape their following and board a train. It ends with a television performance which pours forth enough of their twangy chanting to satisfy the most devoted Beatlemaniacs.

Banter at Rapid Clip
In between, the banter flies at a rapid clip. The wisecracks among the Beatles, their handlers, grandpa and various bystanders are sometimes too fast — and occasionally too British — to comprehend. The comedy follows the pattern of vintage Marx Brothers or early Three Stooges, though not as hilarious as either. But then, the Beatles are new at it.

All four register as personalities. Ringo Starr is an ideal target for abuse because of his nose and height, and he shines in a Chaplinesque escape to the simple pleasures of life. Paul McCartney is puckish and refreshing, and John Lennon and George Harrison do well in the more-or-less straight roles.

Warning to adults: Under no circumstances should you see "A Hard Day's Night" at a matinee. Proceed with caution at other times.

The U. S. 1804 silver dollar is called the "king" of U. S. silver coins. Only 10 are in private hands, 4 in museums.

92,000 See Kennedy Collection in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Doors were kept open past midnight Wednesday night to admit crowds lined up to see the John F. Kennedy memento collection on its last day in Chicago.

A spokesman announced that some 92,000 persons saw the exhibit during its seven days in Chicago, bringing the attendance total in 11 cities to 585,000.

Included in the exhibit are Kennedy's rocking chair, the books he kept on his desk and the coconut he used in World War II to float a message that he and his PT boat crew were stranded on an island.

Park Dance, Movie Scheduled Friday

Bouyed by the excellent turnout for the Rock and Roll Dance last Friday night at Forsyth

Park the Recreation Department has scheduled another dance this Friday from 8 p. m. until 11 p. m. under the pavilion at Forsyth Park.

This dance also will feature the Rock and Roll group, the Runaways featuring John Mayone on the guitar, Paul Brayman also on guitar, Jim Riggins on the base and Ron Rittie on drums.

Also on Friday evening an additional movie for the week has been scheduled for the former No. 2 School, now Ulster County Community College playground area. The movie is "Tarzan Goes to India" with Jock Mahoney. The movie will start at dusk.

Real Rough Slide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert Lee, 10, had put in a hard day sliding down a sandy hill above Ocean Beach.

Then he slid too far, tumbled down a 200-foot rocky cliff, and fetched up unconscious on the beach.

When he regained consciousness he was in a helicopter which took him to an ambulance, which took him to a hospital.

Doctors found only slight cuts and bruises and sent him home. Robert said riding in the helicopter was more fun even than sliding down the hill.

Debbie Watson Can't See Fame Becoming a Bore

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Debbie Watson, a bubbling, wide-eyed 15-year-old, today can walk down any Los Angeles street, or order a cheeseburger at any drive-in without causing any undue stir.

By the time Thanksgiving rolls around all this will change because pretty, typical-teen Debbie, for better or for worse, will then be a recognizable television star. A Los Angeles youngster whose previous theatrical experience included only some roles in community theaters and at Knott's Berry Farm, she has the title role on NBC's new "Karen," one of the three situation comedies strung together under the umbrella title of "90 Bristol Court," which will debut in October.

Debbie awaits the change of status with undisguised impatience.

"I've already gotten four fan letters," she announced breathlessly. "And I can't imagine how anybody knew about me."

Debbie and I were joined for the studio luncheon break by Richard Denning, television's former "Mr. North" and "Michael Shayne," who is playing her father in the series.

On the joys of being a public figure she said: "At first, it's marvelous. You really get a kick out of having people nudge each other when they see you and whisper your name. You get a great thrill out of being asked for autographs and addressed by strangers. But after awhile there are times when you wish people would let you alone."

Debbie listened politely and murmured sympathetically, but it was obvious that she couldn't imagine fame ever becoming a bore.

Helen Traubel, the former Metropolitan Opera Wagnerian soprano and once a favorite television playmate of Jimmy Durante, has been cast as Tony Franciosa's mother in ABC's forthcoming comedy "Valentine's Day"—playing a former opera star.

"What's My Line?" has jumped into the Nielsen top ten during the warm weather, its annual demonstration that the audience will hunt for fresh material.

Chicken-Pheasant Claim of Calif. Man

PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP)

A part time rancher claims to have crossed a chicken with a pheasant.

The result: the "Mongolian chick-sant."

"I've never heard of such a thing," Edio Delfino, El Dorado County agricultural commissioner, said when told of the mating.

Dan Bush, 38, a linoleum layer who lives on a 132-acre fowl ranch, said he tried for a year before he got a Mongolian ring-neck pheasant to mate with a certain red hen.

He says three chicks have hatched and he has 48 more eggs.

The chicks have chicken bodies with pheasant markings, he said.

He plans now to switch sexes and try for a red rooster-pheasant hen mating.

RFK Is Charged With Money for Vote on Rights

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Senate candidate M.M. Bullard charged Wednesday night that Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has raised money for the campaign of Rep. Ross Bass, also a Senate candidate, in return for Bass having voted for the civil rights bill.

Gov. Frank Clement is the third candidate in the race for the Democratic nomination to the remaining two years of the late Sen. Estes Kefauver's term.

Bullard said reliable sources, whom he did not identify, told him "Bass received $30,000 from Kennedy a week ago."

Bullard, a Newport industrialist, said the money was collected in Washington and Boston and got to Tennessee through John J. Hooker Jr., a Nashville attorney whom Bullard described as a close friend of Kennedy.

Several days ago Bullard asked Kennedy to investigate Bass because Bullard alleged, the congressman had abused his congressional franking privilege in the campaign. At another point in the campaign, Bullard charged that Clement backers were contributing to the Bass campaign.

"Bobby Kennedy has done enough damage to Tennessee by forcing this strong civil rights bill on us—it's even stronger than the late John F. Kennedy wanted," Bullard said. "I'm sure he (Robert Kennedy) made many promises to congressmen to help them out if they got in trouble back home after that bill—and if it's true, it looks like he's fulfilling at least one of his commitments."

Bass and Rep. Richard Fulton, D-Tenn., were the only two members of Tennessee's congressional delegation to vote for the civil rights bill.

Bass was not immediately available for comment.

Firemen Assist In Water Break At Benedictine

A water line break in an area between the powerhouse and south wing of the Benedictine Hospital, disrupted service there at about 4 a. m. today, but emergency action with the aid of firemen, restored water supply in the building pending permanent repair.

Operation of the hospital's laundry was affected for about two hours, Edwin B. Bolz, administrator at the hospital, said, but other areas of the building were less seriously inconvenienced.

All have been asked to conserve water, he said, until the source of the trouble is located and permanent repair is completed.

Connection of a temporary pipe line to replace present fire hose connections is expected to be completed today.

Firemen were first called for assistance at 5:19 a. m. today, and Capt. Edwin P. Murphy was first in charge of supplying water by hose line. Later today Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard took charge in supplying and maintaining the emergency service until a temporary pipe line is connected.

A pumper from Rapid Hose Company remained at the hospital to keep pressure up, mainly for operation of the laundry. Chief Brett said special fitting had to be fabricated to attach hose to pipe sections.

One Driver Injured

Donald A. Jameson, 48, of 235 Main Street, driver of one of two cars in a mishap at Albany Avenue and Maiden Lane, reported at 6:09 p. m. Wednesday, suffered a neck injury. He was treated by a doctor. The other car, police said, was driven by Smith W. Conover, of 86 Cedar Street.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Two men and a woman from Buffalo, all Negroes, were under arrest today after, police said, they were caught with clothing and liquor stolen during the weekend rioting here.

The three, charged with criminally receiving stolen property, were to appear in City Court today.

A search of their car turned up five suits, five coats, two pairs of trousers and a half case of gin, police said.

Under arrest were Charles J. Dean, 23, Samuel L. Stewart Jr., 20, and Eileen Harge, 19.

10 Whites Are Killed In African Rail Wreck

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Three cars of a speeding passenger train were derailed Wednesday night near the mining town of Randfontein, 30 miles west of Johannesburg. A railway headquarters spokesman said 10 white persons were killed.

Several nonwhites were reported injured. The casualty toll was markedly below that estimated in first reports from the scene, which said 21 were killed and scores injured. The cars were splintered along the tracks.

Three Drivers Fined

Three drivers, charged with speeding, were fined $15 each today in city court. They were: Paul J. Colburn, 22, of 11 Deyo Street; John Szymanski, 38, of 102 Fourth Avenue; and Carl Sorsensen, 46, of Olive Bridge.

Fear 90 Drowned

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Ninety persons are feared drowned in the capsizing of a launch in the Padma River about 40 miles northwest of Dacca, East Pakistan.

Unconfirmed reports from Dacca said the launch, with 150 persons aboard, hit a submerged rock Wednesday and only 60 persons swam ashore.

Johnson Keeps Mind Open on Running Mate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today he would want the Democratic vice-presidential nominee to be attractive, prudent, and progressive with a passionate consideration for the welfare for the people—but "I've made no decision" on the choice.

The President told a suddenly called news conference: "There are still many people being considered."

He mentioned no names. And in a session ranging over a wide assortment of subjects, Johnson said:

Other Subjects
Economy—Economic and financial conditions are bright but his administration still is looking toward the future and giving a close look to heading off any renewed wage-price spiral or any slowdown of the economy. He conferred on these and kindred matters Wednesday with top government executives.

Nuclear Tests—A year ago, a nuclear test-ban agreement was signed and now has more than 100 nations adhering to it. But even were it ended tomorrow, Johnson said, we would be "safer than we were before."

He said we now live in a world in which "terror does not govern our waking lives."

OAS—The inter-American system, the President said, "made it abundantly clear that the Hemisphere will not tolerate aggression by subversion," in a final resolution adopted by the Organization of American States.

Defense Contracts—Johnson said efforts are under way to ease the impact of shifts in defense contracts around the country and that government programs and a strong economy are helping. Additional measures may be needed, he said, and the Defense Department is making a survey to pinpoint problems and remedies.

Federal Jobs—For the first time since the Korean War, Defense Department civilian employees number below the one-million mark. Johnson said the figure stood at 997,840 on July 1—about 6,000 below the goal for that date. He credited reductions chiefly to closing military bases, improving productivity and reducing the hiring of foreign nationals.

RFK Is Charged With Money for Vote on Rights

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Senate candidate M.M. Bullard charged Wednesday night that Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has raised money for the campaign of Rep. Ross Bass, also a Senate candidate, in return for Bass having voted for the civil rights bill.

Gov. Frank Clement is the third candidate in the race for the Democratic nomination to the remaining two years of the late Sen. Estes Kefauver's term.

Bullard said reliable sources, whom he did not identify, told him "Bass received $30,000 from Kennedy a week ago."

Bullard, a Newport industrialist, said the money was collected in Washington and Boston and got to Tennessee through John J. Hooker Jr., a Nashville attorney whom Bullard described as a close friend of Kennedy.

Several days ago Bullard asked Kennedy to investigate Bass because, Bullard alleged, the congressman had abused his congressional franking privilege in the campaign. At another point in the campaign, Bullard charged that Clement backers were contributing to the Bass campaign.

"Bobby Kennedy has done enough damage to Tennessee by forcing this strong civil rights bill on us—it's even stronger than the late John F. Kennedy wanted," Bullard said. "I'm sure he (Robert Kennedy) made many promises to congressmen to help them out if they got in trouble back home after that bill—and if it's true, it looks like he's fulfilling at least one of his commitments."

Bass and Rep. Richard Fulton, D-Tenn., were the only two members of Tennessee's congressional delegation to vote for the civil rights bill.

Bass was not immediately available for comment.

Firemen Assist In Water Break At Benedictine

A water line break in an area between the powerhouse and south wing of the Benedictine Hospital, disrupted service there at about 4 a. m. today, but emergency action with the aid of firemen, restored water supply in the building pending permanent repair.

Operation of the hospital's laundry was affected for about two hours, Edwin B. Bolz, co-administrator at the hospital, said, but other areas of the building were less seriously inconvenienced.

All have been asked to conserve water, he said, until the source of the trouble is located and permanent repair is completed.

Connection of a temporary pipe line to replace present fire hose connections is expected to be completed today.

Firemen were first called for assistance at 5:19 a. m. today, and Capt. Edwin P. Murphy was in charge of supplying water by hose line. Later today Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard took charge in supplying and maintaining the emergency service until a temporary pipe line is connected.

A pumper from Rapid Hose Company remained at the hospital to keep pressure up, mainly for operation of the laundry. Chief Brett said special fitting had to be fabricated to attach hose to pipe sections.

Under arrest were Charles J. Dean, 23, Samuel L. Stewart Jr., 20, and Eileen Harge, 19.

10 Whites Are Killed In African Rail Wreck

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Three cars of a speeding passenger train were derailed Wednesday night near the mining town of Randfontein, 30 miles west of Johannesburg. A railway headquarters spokesman said 10 white persons were killed.

Several nonwhites were reported injured. The casualty toll was markedly below that estimated in first reports from the scene, which said 21 were killed and scores injured. The cars were splintered along the tracks.

Three drivers, charged with speeding, were fined $15 each today in city court. They were: Paul J. Colburn, 22, of 11 Deyo Street; John Szymanski, 38, of 102 Fourth Avenue, and Carl Sorsensen, 46, of Olive Bridge.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Ninety persons are feared drowned in the capsizing of a launch in the Padma River about 40 miles northwest of Dacca, East Pakistan.

Johnson Keeps Mind Open on Running Mate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today he would want the Democratic vice-presidential nominee to be attractive, prudent, and progressive with a passionate consideration for the welfare for the people—but "I've made no decision" on the choice.

The President told a suddenly called news conference: "There are still many people being considered."

He mentioned no names. And in a session ranging over a wide assortment of subjects, Johnson said:

Other Subjects

Economy—Economic and financial conditions are bright but his administration still is looking toward the future and giving a close look to heading off any renewed wage-price spiral or any slowdown of the economy. He conferred on these and kindred matters Wednesday with top government executives.

Nuclear Tests—A year ago, a nuclear test-ban agreement was signed and now has more than 100 nations adhering to it. But even were it ended tomorrow, Johnson said, we would be "safer than we were before."

QAS—The inter-American system, the President said, "made it abundantly clear that the Hemisphere will not tolerate aggression by subversion," in a final resolution adopted by the Organization of American States.

Would Ease Impact

Defense Contracts—Johnson said efforts are under way to ease the impact of shifts in defense contracts around the country and that government programs and a strong economy are helping. Additional measures may be needed, he said, and the Defense Department is making a survey to pinpoint problems and remedies.

Federal Jobs—For the first time since the Korean War, Defense Department civilian employees number below the one-million mark. Johnson said the figure stood at 997,864 on July 1—about 6,000 below the goal for that date. He credited reductions chiefly to closing military bases, improving productivity and reducing the hiring of foreign nationals.

Warning Heeded, Senate Approves Big Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has heeded Sen. Richard B. Russell's warning that "we can't afford to be second best" and voted unanimously to spend more than $46 billion for defense.

The 76-0 approval Wednesday night of the biggest money bill of the fiscal year — $46,774,401,000 — sends the appropriation to the House, which earlier voted some $15 million less. After the House acts, a committee of both chambers will arrange a compromise figure.

Below LBJ Request

The Senate amount is $1.4 billion less than Congress forked over to the Pentagon last year and more than $696 million below President Johnson's initial budget requests.

The unanimous vote is misleading in a sense. Debate was angry at times and Russell, floor manager for the bill, had to fight off efforts to cut the amount and to protect government shipyards. After nine hours the veteran Georgia Democrat had his way — on every test.

Russell claimed huge multi-billion-dollar outlays for manpower, missiles, submarines and other expensive military hardware must continue for the foreseeable future.

Most of the dispute centered on efforts of Navy yard supporters to get a large share of nearly $2 billion in the bill to construct, repair and convert the Navy's fleet of existing and new ships.

Javits Shouted Down

As part of an economy effort, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has shut down large numbers of military bases and establishments. Now he is looking over government owned and operated ship yards.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., tried to tack on the bill a rider to prevent a shutdown of any yards unless appropriate congressional committees got advance notice and agreed.

Opponents argued this was an attempt at a congressional veto on executive decisions. It was shouted down on a voice vote.

Body of Pilot Found

CAMPBELLVILLE, Ont. (AP)—The body of glider pilot Francis Popp, 25, of Jersey City, N.J., was found Wednesday strapped in the cockpit of the glider in which he was competing in the Canadian National Soaring championships.

The body was found in an open field near this village, 14 miles southeast of Guelph.

Popp had last been seen when he was towed aloft at Brantford, 28 miles to the southwest, Monday evening.

After the radio-equipped sailplane disappeared, the championships were called off so that private planes which had been used to tow the gliders could take part in the search.

Cites 15 Eating Places Under New Rights Measure

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has filed the first federal suit under the new Civil Rights Act against 15 eating places here.

The action, filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Birmingham, charged that owners and managers of the 15 places have violated the law by refusing to serve Negroes.

Earlier Wednesday, Negro attorneys in South Carolina filed suits against two Orangeburg movie houses. The lawyers charged that Negroes were turned away from ticket windows where whites were accommodated.

The Tuscaloosa suit demanded that restaurants and lunch counters in the University city be forbidden to discriminate against Negroes. It also requested a preliminary injunction against the defendants.

There was no immediate ruling. Court sources said a hearing would not be held until October because of a crowded court docket for the three federal judges in Birmingham.

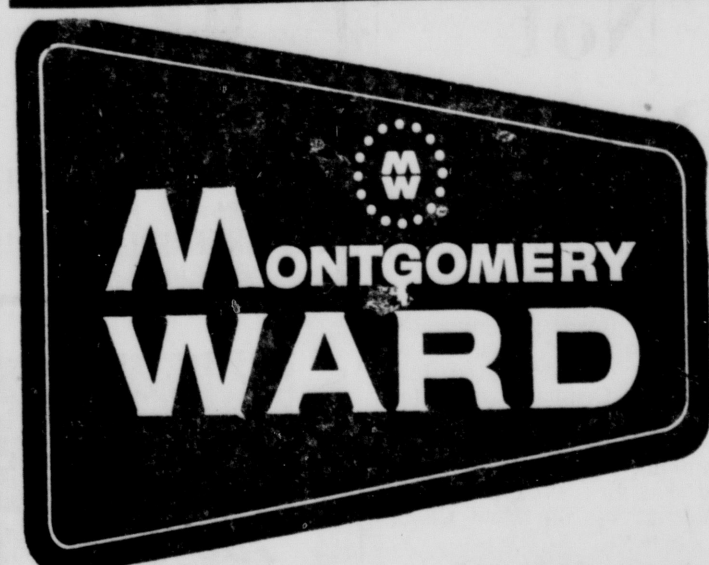

The suit covers virtually every sizable restaurant and lunch counter in Tuscaloosa, except a hotel restaurant and a cafeteria that dropped their racial barriers after the law took effect.

In the suit, Kennedy is resorting for the first time to a provision of the Civil Rights Act which permits him, rather than private individuals, to initiate a suit when he finds a "pattern or practice" of discrimination. It also marks the fourth major legal test of the controversial public accommodations section.

There have been rulings so far on two tests of the public accommodations section of the civil rights act, signed by President Johnson less than four weeks ago.

In both cases, a three-judge federal court in Atlanta upheld the law.

Warning Heeded, Senate Approves Big Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has heeded Sen. Richard B. Russell's warning that "we can't afford to be second best" and voted unanimously to spend more than $46 billion for defense.

The 76-0 approval Wednesday night of the biggest money bill of the fiscal year — $46,774,401,000 — sends the appropriation to the House, which earlier voted some $15 million less. After the House acts, a committee of both chambers will arrange a compromise figure.

Below LBJ Request

The Senate amount is $1.4 billion less than Congress forked over to the Pentagon last year and more than $696 million below President Johnson's initial budget requests.

The unanimous vote is misleading in a sense. Debate was angry at times and Russell, floor manager for the bill, had to fight off efforts to cut the amount and to protect government shipyards. After nine hours the veteran Georgia Democrat had his way — on every test.

Russell claimed huge multi-billion-dollar outlays for manpower, missiles, submarines and other expensive military hardware must continue for the foreseeable future.

Most of the dispute centered on efforts of Navy yard supporters to get a large share of nearly $2 billion in the bill to construct, repair and convert the Navy's fleet of existing and new ships.

Javits Shouted Down

As part of an economy effort, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has shut down large numbers of military bases and establishments. Now he is looking over government owned and operated ship yards.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., tried to tack on the bill a rider to prevent a shutdown of any yards unless appropriate congressional committees got advance notice and agreed.

Opponents argued this was an attempt at a congressional veto on executive decisions. It was shouted down on a voice vote.

Body of Pilot Found

CAMPBELLVILLE, Ont. (AP) — The body of glider pilot Francis Popp, 25, of Jersey City, N.J., was found Wednesday strapped in the cockpit of the glider in which he was competing in the Canadian National Soaring championships.

The body was found in an open field near this village, 14 miles southeast of Guelph.

Popp had last been seen when he was towed aloft at Brantford, 28 miles to the southwest, Monday evening.

After the radio-equipped sailplane disappeared, the championships were called off so that private planes which had been used to tow the gliders could take part in the search.

Cites 15 Eating Places Under New Rights Measure

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has filed the first federal suit under the new Civil Rights Act against 15 eating places here.

The action, filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Birmingham, charged that owners and managers of the 15 places have violated the law by refusing to serve Negroes.

Earlier Wednesday, Negro attorneys in South Carolina filed suits against two Orangeburg movie houses. The lawyers charged that Negroes were turned away from ticket windows where whites were accommodated.

The Tuscaloosa suit demanded that restaurants and lunch counters in the University city be forbidden to discriminate against Negroes. It also requested a preliminary injunction against the defendants.

There was no immediate ruling. Court sources said a hearing would not be held until October because of a crowded court docket for the three federal judges in Birmingham.

The suit covers virtually every sizable restaurant and lunch counter in Tuscaloosa, except a hotel restaurant and a cafeteria that dropped their racial barriers after the law took effect.

In the suit, Kennedy is resorting for the first time to a provision of the Civil Rights Act which permits him, rather than private individuals, to initiate a suit when he finds a "pattern or practice" of discrimination. It also marks the fourth major legal test of the controversial public accommodations section.

There have been rulings so far on two tests of the public accommodations section of the civil rights act, signed by President Johnson less than four weeks ago.

In both cases, a three-judge federal court in Atlanta upheld the law.

Math Whiz Is New Miss USA

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The new Miss USA, a math whiz once serenaded by television star Ricky Nelson, competes tonight against beauties of 58 nations for the Miss Universe crown.

She is blue-eyed, blonde Bobbi Johnson, a stunning 19-year-old from Washington, D.C.

She probably is one of the calmest beauty winners on record. Eight thousand people watched her step smoothly from the line of 15 semifinalists and receive the Miss USA crown without a tear.

Bobbi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duane B. Johnson, kissed her backstage, told her she had had some "tough competition," then set about congratulating the runnersup.

Tall Diane Balloun, Houston, Texas, first runnerup; Patricia Marlin, Fairbanks, Alaska, second; Janet Joy Erickson, Salt Lake City, third, and Johnna Ruth Reid, Paducah, Ky.

The winner's eye-catching dimensions, 35-22-35, are more than skin deep. Bobbi is a National Science Foundation scholar and attended the University of Kansas last year as an honors program mathematics major.

Migrant Worker Killed

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Estella Smith, 37, a migrant worker from Macon, Ga., was killed early today when struck by an automobile on Route 31, near this Niagara County community.

She wants to program electronic computers.

One of Bobbi's most talked about experiences is her serenade from Ricky Nelson, singing son of Ozzie and Harriet.

"He crowned me Kansas City Auto Show Queen of 1963. He kissed me and he serenaded me," she said hesitantly. "He was very nice."

Peking Refuses Showdown, Not Going to Parley

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China told Soviet Russia today it will "never take part in any international meeting" that will split the international Communist movement.

The Chinese Communists are "firmly opposed to a schismatic meeting" convened by leaders of the Soviet Communist party, the Chinese declared.

Peking's refusal to attend a showdown meeting of the world's Communist parties was contained in a letter dated July 28 from the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party to the Soviet Communist party. Contents of the letter were monitored in Tokyo from a broadcast by the New China News Agency.

Was to Invite 26

Moscow has been reported preparing to send invitations next week to 26 Communist parties for a meeting to prepare for a world conference on the issues involved in the Chinese-Soviet split.

The 26 parties invited would be those which served on the drafting committee that drew up the Moscow Declaration of 1960. This declaration, supposed to have been a charter for action for the world Communist movement, is one of the key points in the dispute. Both the Chinese and the Russians claim to have been faithful to it and accuse each other of violating it.

Presumably Red China was to be one of the 26 invited, along with all other Communist parties now ruling in their own nations and leaders of the big parties in Italy, France, Japan and Indonesia.

Oppose Nik Policies

Basically, the Red Chinese oppose the current policies of Premier Khrushchev which envision peaceful coexistence as providing time for the Soviet Union to develop economically as a prelude to spreading communism around the world. The Chinese demand more-aggressive policies.

The broadcast said Communist China persists in its "stand for an international meeting of the fraternal parties for unity on the basis of Marxism-Leninism to be held after ample preparation."

It also said the Russians "distort and reject the reasonable proposal advanced in our letter of May 7, 1964, and turn a deaf ear to the views of the many fraternal parties demanding unity and opposing a split."

The Chinese said the Russians "have laid down a revisionist political program and a divisive organizational line for an international meeting of the fraternal parties."

"This shows that you are determined to prepare and call such a meeting arbitrarily, unilaterally and illegally with the aim of effecting an open split in the international Communist movement," Red China said.

Soviet Russia called upon Peking leaders in a letter dated June 15 and made public July 15 to agree in principle "in the immediate future...that a meeting must be convened and that it should not be put off for long."

CORE Man Cited As Peacemaker In Harlem Riots

Staff assistant James McDonald, of the Congress of Racial Equality, who will be in charge of the Mississippi Freedom Project fund-raising rally in Ulster County September 18, was last week cited for his efforts to prevent violence during the Harlem riots, according to the New York Times of July 25.

This was emphasized today by Miss Jennifer Miller, 17 Jansen Avenue, president of Ulster County Chapter of CORE. Miss Miller pointed out that Mr. McDonald, together with National Director of CORE James Farmer, worked around the clock in Harlem to quell violence that broke out after a 15-year-old Negro youth was shot by an off-duty policeman. He was publicly commended by school principal Max Francke, Miss Miller said, for having been "instrumental in reducing tension among the students" in his school and cautioning them "to behave and to express whatever anger, fear and frustration they had in an orderly, constructive manner."

Dedication Held For Highland Experiment Lab

The new agricultural experimental laboratory at Highland during dedication ceremonies Wednesday was described as "a stimulating example of partnership between the growers, the agricultural industries that serve them, the scientists of government and university—all working as a part of the great team of modern agriculture in New York State."

The speaker was Charles E. Palm, dean of the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

More than 100, including area legislators, attended the ceremonies in a tent behind the new experimental station situated at the intersection of Route 9W and 299.

Singer's Request

ADDISON, Ala. (AP) — Gospel singer S. Whit Denson sang at his own funeral. Relatives arranged that two recordings by Denson be played at his funeral service. The selections, "I Won't Turn Back," and "New Morning Sun," were favorites of the 74-year-old singer. Each recording was a quartet — with Denson singing all four parts and also playing the piano. He had requested that they be included in the service.

The commissioner commented at a meeting that he called to discuss handling of racial incidents by news media.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES STORER

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The timetable set down by a federal court for reapportionment of the state legislature will mean a busy and intensely political three years for lawmakers.

The special court in New York City, followed through on a U.S. Supreme Court decision that declared the state's present apportionment unconstitutional, this week ordered enactment of a reapportionment plan by next April 1.

To Mean Three Elections

It also ordered a special legislative election under the plan in November 1965 and ruled that legislators elected in the coming November election would serve for only one year, as would legislators elected in November 1965.

"A real can of worms" was the way one veteran legislator described the outlook.

The court's ruling will mean three elections, instead of two, in the next three years—with all the physical and financial costs that attend primary and general election campaigns.

It will mean that both the 1965 and 1966 sessions of the Legislature will be election-year sessions, filled with re-election concerns.

This will bring an inevitable stepping up of the political pressures on lawmakers as they deliberate proposed laws—at a time when the Legislature will be asked to approve higher spending by the state and almost certainly higher taxes on New Yorkers.

Compounds Worries

The worries of lawmakers will be compounded because the entire reapportionment question undoubtedly faces further legal tests and they must adopt a reapportionment plan that will cost some of them their seats.

The outlook is for a period of confusion and turmoil. Rather than face three election campaigns some of the better qualified lawmakers may choose to retire.

Some of them already are puzzled by the court's ruling that legislators chosen next November would serve for only one year.

"Does the constitution have no meaning?" asked one long-time senator, referring to a provision of the state constitution that sets terms at two years.

When the reapportionment schedule was being argued before the court, the judges asked Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz whether he thought they had the power to limit the terms of legislators to one year. He said he did not think so.

The court, however, felt it had the power and exercised it. But in truth, the one-year term will not be a novelty for some veteran assemblymen.

Until 1938, all Assembly terms were for only one year. At that time, the terms were lengthened to two years by constitutional amendment, the same as for senators.

'Moon Clock' to Help Earth Men on Travels

By CECILIA LYNETT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What time will the first earth men on the moon go by?

That's perhaps a silly question, but there is a real problem—at least as top scientists see it—in getting a man from earth adjusted to time on the moon.

Man has had a biological clock built into him since his evolution. As he goes about his daily activities, his metabolism is geared to a 24-hour day.

Space medicine doctors are concerned with the lunar explorer's ability to adapt to conditions in which day and night, as we know them on earth, do not exist. For most of us, daytime and nighttime regulate our activities.

How will man adapt himself to conditions on the moon where one lunar day equals 29½ earth days?

A "moon clock"—adjusted so that time on the moon can be computed exactly into the same period as time on earth—is the answer, in the opinion of Dr. I.M. Levitt, astronomer and director of Philadelphia's Fels Planetarium.

He took his theories and calculations to Martin M. Decker, chairman of the board of the National Aeronautics Association and president of the Decker Corp. of Philadelphia.

Decker built the moon clock. It has two dials showing the Greenwich time on earth and the local time for a particular point on the moon.

The position of the sun at any moment, even when it is below the horizon during the lunar night, is shown on a scale which marks off the 29½ lunar days to one earth day.

A calendar is incorporated in the clock to show the date on the earth which will also be considered the date on the moon.

Decker thinks the United States will be the first nation to reach the moon, and "We will be up there within the next two or three years."

"Man will reach the moon very shortly and will live on the moon the same as we have done on the arctic and the North Pole," he predicts.

Shokan

Lloyd Hale, Long Island college professor, has been spending a few days at his place along the old Post Road near the Granville Bush farm.

Harry Wikane, Stone Ridge War 2 veteran and automobile salesman, was a caller in the village center last Sunday.

West Olive people here Friday included Willie Squier of Watson Hollow Road. He has retired from his duties at Beaver Lake House where he was a member of the operating staff several years.

Robert Opdall, Windhorst Avenue, Bethpage, L. I., was in town recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, Brooklyn are spending a few days in the village. Martin during waterside years was a regular summer visitor at the home of his uncle, Frank Martin, whose property at confluence of east and west branches of the Butternutkill along the old Plank Road is now a part of the reservoir preserve.

Yolanda Murphy, who has a summer home on Ohayo Mountain Road, called on village center friends last week.

A total of 819 pheasants grown by Greene County 4-H Club members were released last week for hunters to shoot at next fall. Members are paid for the food and care of the birds following inspection by a state game protector.

Herbert L. Block, Chelsea Drive, Merrick, L. I. was numbered among the callers at the local museum of antiques last week. Recent acquisitions at the museum include huge iron kettles, such as were used on farms for boiling maple sap and to heat water for scalding hogs at butchering time. The big pots were also handy for wash day and for cooking up cull vegetables to augment the pig "swill" barrel.

Olive residents having a birthday August 1 include Mrs. Charles Duloff, the former Bertha Kiersted who is a native of Old Hurley.

No Advance Signs On Upstate Riot, Conway Declares

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A member of the State Commission for Human Rights says field reports gave no hint that the racial situation in Rochester was about to explode.

Commissioner J. Edward Conway of Kingston was asked Wednesday if there was any significant change recently in the number of complaints or in other reports the commission had received from its Rochester office before last week's rioting. "None whatever," he replied. The commissioner commented at a meeting that he called to discuss handling of racial incidents by news media.

Famed Claremont Quartet to Play Recital on Sunday

"For balance of ensemble, keenness and aptness of expression, vitality and warmth, the Claremont Quartet has few equals in the world." Thus wrote the San Francisco Chronicle about the Claremont Quartet on one of their many United States tours. Sunday, August 2 at 3 p. m. the famed quartet of Marc Gottlieb, violin, Vladimir Weisman, violin, Irving Klein, cello, and Scott Nickrenz, viola, will play a recital of Mozart, Debussy and Brahms at the Maverick Hall in Woodstock.

Besides making annual United States tours, the Claremont Quartet recently returned from a triumphant State Department tour of Africa. Playing to audiences, many of whom had never seen string instruments nor heard a string quartet, in five African Republics, they received enthusiastic and attentive reactions wherever they played. The African audiences often expressed to the Claremonts their desire to have chamber music taught more widely in Africa. Further discussion in the United States has led to the possibility of fulfilling this wish by Peace Corp Volunteers.

After their Town Hall debut in 1954, the quartet has undergone only one personnel change. Marc Gottlieb, first violinist, was born in Germany and is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music. He played with the Degan Broque String Quartet before the Claremont was founded. He has composed many pieces for solo and ensemble piano, strings and woodwinds.

Vladimir Weisman, playing second violin, began his violin study at the age of seven and made his solo debut at 16 in New York City. He was awarded a scholarship to Tanglewood and with Dr. Nauom Blinder at Pierre Montoux's Domaine School. He also played with the Indianapolis and St. Louis Symphonies.

Irving Klein, cellist, born in Cleveland, is a graduate of New York University and has studied at the Cleveland Institute of Music and at the Interlochen National Music Camp. He also is a founding member of the Claremont Quartet. He has been a member of the CBS Symphony and the National Orchestral Association.

Woodstock Fire Co. 3 Auxiliary Elects Officers

Election of officers, a report on the annual rummage sale, the possibility of a second trip to the World's Fair, and the need for a larger active membership were items on the agenda of the July meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 at Lake Hill.

Officers elected to lead the group for the coming year include: Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey of Shady, president; Miss Rose Tager of Willow, vice president; Mrs. Hugh Hafele of Lake Hill, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Shultis of Willow, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Osterander of Willow, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter Stone of Willow, social secretary; Mrs. Harrison Lapo of Shady and Miss Molly Tager of Willow, executive committee members; and Mrs. Eugene Howland of Lake Hill, publicity.

The annual rummage sale, held on July 4 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter Stone, showed a net profit of over $300 — considerably better than in 1963. Mrs. Stone expressed her appreciation to the community for its support of the sale and to members of the fire department for helping with the traffic problems during the event. Benefits from this sale are utilized for equipment for the fire department.

The possibility of the Auxiliary sponsoring another bus trip to the World's Fair was considered. Two months ago a trip to the fair was made, and at that time some people expressed a desire to either repeat the trip or to participate in one at a later date. Members of the Auxiliary are to determine if there would be enough interest to make the trip worthwhile, and to decide at a future meeting as to whether or not to sponsor the bus.

The need for additional active members of the Auxiliary was also stressed at the meeting. The organization has a large roster of supporting members, but its active membership is not too great, said an officer. "This means that a few women are doing most of the work in supporting our fire department," said the officer, "and we could use some additional help." Women in the Willow-Lake Hill-Shady areas are invited to join the Auxiliary which meets the last Tuesday of every month at the firehouse in Lake Hill. "It is not necessary for another member of the family to be a fireman in order for the lady of the house to be a member of the Auxiliary," stated the officer. Women interested in affiliating with the Auxiliary are invited to attend the next meeting on Tuesday, August 25, at the firehouse, or to speak to a current member of the Auxiliary.

Debating Won for Kennedy

Johnson Has Large Audience, Need Not Meet Barry on TV

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The day after John F. Kennedy squeaked through to victory in the 1960 elections his brother and campaign manager, Robert F. Kennedy, said it couldn't have happened if Vice President Richard M. Nixon hadn't agreed to those four debates on nationwide television and radio.

The next day President-elect Kennedy said the same thing. A few months later the delegates to the Republican National Convention in 1960 were polled by the Indianapolis News which asked what they thought had caused Nixon's defeat. The consensus of 780 of the 1,331 delegates was that the big mistake was Nixon's debates with Kennedy.

Much later President Kennedy said he would debate his Republican opponent in 1964. But by then Kennedy had enormously built up his popular support. President Johnson, in office only a little more than eight months, is still trying to build up his.

He's Limiting Trips
The lesson of 1960 can hardly be lost on Johnson, a man who figures the angles. Only this week it became known he is thinking of making few barnstorming trips in this year's campaign, explaining to his cabinet how highly successful President Roosevelt was in the 1936 and 1940 elections when he tightly limited his electioneering.

It's no wonder he hasn't responded yet to Sen. Barry Goldwater's challenge to debate in front of the nation or that his press secretary, George Reedy, also children's safety harnesses and seat belt retractors which will fit existing seat belts as well as the new belts. All these will be offered by the Woodstock Jaycees as part of their continuing effort to develop projects of interest to the people of the Woodstock area.

The Jaycees are also making final plans for the Swim Meet Saturday, August 8th. Swimmers from 6 to 18 are eligible for the competition scheduled for 9 a. m. at Joe and Nora's "Swim-O-Links". Entry blanks are available at Mason's Store in West Hurley and the following Woodstock locations: The Information Center; Roger Jones' Sport Shop; The News Shop; Bob's Rod and Rifle; Swim-O-Links; and the Andy Lee Recreation Field.

told newsmen Wednesday such a debate is not a matter the Democrats would consider until the campaign begins next September.

At the time of the 1960 debates Nixon, by the fact of his office, had been in the public eye seven years and was a national figure while Kennedy, except for such exposure as he got in the 1960 primary contests, was a relatively unknown senator from Massachusetts.

Reached 70 Million
The four debates, with an audience of perhaps 70 million people watching each time, gave Kennedy an audience he couldn't otherwise have reached no matter how hard he campaigned. And Nixon, by an accident of wrong make-up and lighting, got off on the wrong foot in the very first debate.

Besides, the four so-called debates were not debates on the issues. The liveliest was the Quemoy-Matsu question. Instead of discussing issues, the two men were stating positions and by the fourth debate were repeating themselves.

A lot of voters almost certainly made their choice on what they thought came through their television screens—like personality and sincerity or the lack of it—and neither man was able to reveal his thinking fully in the limited time they had to answer questions from newsmen and television commentators.

Goldwater Last January
Last January Goldwater said if he was president he wouldn't debate a candidate running against him. He said: "Why buy his audience? Let him get his own." And he added: "I think it's kind of dangerous to subject a president of the United States to questioning and debate."

"After all, his is the most responsible job in the world and he might just slip and say something inadvertently that could even change the course of history."

In other statements he said: "I don't think a president should debate anybody. I would excuse a president who refused to debate."

Refused Two Opponents
Goldwater himself refused to debate New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton. They were willing to but Goldwater said he could "understand why Nelson and Bill would welcome a little help in getting an audience but I think I'll let them try their hand at getting their own."

Two days ago Goldwater told House Republicans he is "ready, willing, and able" to debate Johnson. But Wednesday

World News in Brief

Still Won't Pay U.N.

MOSCOW (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said today the Soviet Union apparently is sticking to its decision not to pay the $52.6 million it owes for U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Thant discussed the matter Tuesday and Wednesday with Premier Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. "I did not get the impression that the Soviet government is prepared to change its policy on this matter," Thant said.

He said his talks had covered wide ground — the future of the United Nations, the financial situation, disarmament, Southeast Asia and the Caribbean.

"Mr. Khrushchev is sincere in his desire to strengthen the United Nations. He wants to see it develop into an effective instrument for the maintenance of peace. But his approach to the problem is different from that of some other member states," Thant said.

Aussies Upset on Meat

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australia has sent a stiff note to the U.S. government on the Senate's approval of legislation repudiating the Australian-American meat agreement.

Informed sources said the note pointed out that cancellation of the agreement would have a potentially serious effect on relations between the United States and Australia.

The legislation, which now is awaiting action by the House of Representatives, would reduce quotas on imports of beef and other meats to counter a decline in prices of domestic products.

No Objection to Bases

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Hayato Ikeda told the new U.S. high commissioner to the Ryukyu Islands today that Japan has no objection to U.S. military bases on Okinawa because they "are an important element in maintaining world peace."

But both Ikeda and Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shina stressed to Lt. Gen. Albert Watson II that Japan feels the United States should grant the Okinawans more autonomy in civil affairs.

Churchmen Hit DeGaulle

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Far Eastern Council of Christian Churches has condemned President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia and Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal for total disarmament.

In a resolution adopted Wednesday at the council's fifth general assembly, it said De Gaulle's proposal "encourages the Communists and marks a road of appeasement and retreat and defeat."

Deaths

SEA CLIFF, N.Y. (AP) — Winifred Lenihan, 66, Broadway actress, director of plays and exhibits, and a leader in Actors Equity, died Monday at her home. It was learned Wednesday, Miss Lenihan's picture was on the cover of McCall's magazine in 1928 as one of the "10 most beautiful women in the world."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Marvin E. Rehfuess, 76, inventor of a tube used in probing the stomach and intestines, died Wednesday in Jefferson Hospital. First appointed to the Jefferson staff in 1936, he also is credited with developing a new method of gastric analysis.

In the playing of chimes, a set of four bells can be played in 24 different orders.

Besides making annual United States tours, the Claremont Quartet recently returned from a triumphant State Department tour of Africa. Playing to audiences, many of whom had never heard a string quartet, in five African Republics, they received enthusiastic and attentive reactions wherever they played. The African audiences often expressed to the Claremonts their desire to have chamber music taught more widely in Africa. Further discussion in the United States has led to the possibility of fulfilling this wish by Peace Corp Volunteers.

After their Town Hall debut in 1954, the quartet has undergone only one personnel change. Marc Gottlieb, first violinist, was born in Germany and is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music. He played with the Degan Broque String Quartets before the Claremont was founded. He has composed many pieces for solo and ensemble piano, strings and woodwinds.

Vladimir Weisman, playing second violin, began his violin study at the age of seven and made his solo debut at 16 in New York City. He was awarded a scholarship to Tanglewood and with Dr. Nauom Blinder at Pierre Monteux's Domaine School. He also played with the Indianapolis and St. Louis Symphonies.

Irving Klein, cellist, born in Cleveland, is a graduate of New York University and has studied at the Cleveland Institute of Music and at the Interlochen National Music Camp. He also is a founding member of the Claremont Quartet. He has been a member of the CBS Symphony and the National Orchestral Association.

Scott Nickrenz, viola, newest member of the quartet, attended the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto and the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. He was principal violist of the Curtis Orchestra and was a member of the Pittsburgh Symphony.

Woodstock Fire Co. 3 Auxiliary Elects Officers

Election of officers, a report on the annual rummage sale, the possibility of a second trip to the World's Fair, and the need for a larger active membership were items on the agenda of the July meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 at Lake Hill.

Officers elected to lead the group for the coming year include: Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey of Shady, president; Miss Rose Tagner of Willow, vice president; Mrs. Hugh Hafele of Lake Hill, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Shults of Willow, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Ostrander of Willow, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter Stone of Willow, social secretary; Mrs. Harrison Lapo of Shady and Miss Molly Tagner of Willow, executive committee members; and Mrs. Eugene Howland of Lake Hill, publicity.

The annual rummage sale, held on July 4 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter Stone, showed a net profit of over $300 — considerably better than in 1963. Mrs. Stone expressed her appreciation to the community for its support of the sale and to members of the fire department for helping with the traffic problems during the event. Benefits from this sale are utilized for equipment for the fire department.

The possibility of the Auxiliary sponsoring another bus trip to the World's Fair was considered. Two months ago a trip to the fair was made, and at that time some people expressed a desire to either repeat the trip or to participate in one at a later date. Members of the Auxiliary are to determine if there would be enough interest to make the trip worthwhile, and to decide at a future meeting as to whether or not to sponsor the bus.

The need for additional active members of the Auxiliary was also stressed at the meeting. The organization has a large roster of supporting members, but its active membership is not too great, said an officer. "This means that a few women are doing most of the work in supporting our fire department," said the officer, "and we could use some additional help." Women in the Willow-Lake Hill-Shady areas are invited to join the Auxiliary which meets the last Tuesday of every month at the firehouse in Lake Hill. "It is not necessary for another member of the family to be a fireman in order for the lady of the house to be a member of the Auxiliary," stated the officer. Women interested in affiliating with the Auxiliary are invited to attend the next meeting on Tuesday, August 25, at the firehouse, or to speak to a current member of the Auxiliary.

Debating Won for Kennedy

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The day after John F. Kennedy squeaked through to victory in the 1960 elections his brother and campaign manager, Robert F. Kennedy, said it couldn't have happened if Vice President Richard M. Nixon hadn't agreed to those four debates on nationwide television and radio.

The next day President-elect Kennedy said the same thing. A few months later the delegates to the Republican National Convention in 1960 were polled by the Indianapolis News which asked what they thought had caused Nixon's defeat. The consensus of 780 of the 1,331 delegates was that the big mistake was Nixon's debates with Kennedy.

Much later President Kennedy said he would debate his Republican opponent in 1964. But by then Kennedy had enormously built up his popular support. President Johnson, in office only a little more than eight months, is still trying to build up his.

He's Limiting Trips

The lesson of 1960 can hardly be lost on Johnson, a man who figures the angles. Only this week it became known he is thinking of making few barnstorming trips in this year's campaign, explaining to his Cabinet how highly successful President Roosevelt was in the 1936 and 1940 elections when he tightly limited his electioneering.

It's no wonder he hasn't responded yet to Sen. Barry Goldwater's challenge to debate in front of the nation or that his press secretary, George Reedy, also children's safety harnesses and seat belt retractors which will fit existing seat belts as well as the new belts. All these will be offered by the Woodstock Jaycees as part of their continuing effort to develop projects of interest to the people of the Woodstock area.

The Jaycees are also making final plans for the Swim Meet Saturday, August 8th. Swimmers from 6 to 18 are eligible for the competition scheduled for 9 a. m. at Joe and Nora's "Swim-O-Links". Entry blanks are available at Mason's Store in West Hurley and the following Woodstock locations: The Information Center; Roger Jones' Sport Shop; The News Shop; Bob's Rod and Rifle; Swim-O-Links; and the Andy Lee Recreation Field.

Goldwater last January said if he was president he wouldn't debate a candidate running against him. He said: "Why buy his audience? Let him get his own." And he added: "I think it's kind of dangerous to subject a president of the United States to questioning and debate."

"After all, his is the most responsible job in the world and he might slip and say something inadvertently that could even change the course of history."

In other statements he said: "I don't think a president should debate anybody. I would excuse a president who refused to debate."

Refused Two Opponents
Goldwater himself refused to debate New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton. They were willing to but Goldwater said he could "understand why Nelson and Bill would welcome a little help in getting an audience but I think I'll let them try their hand at getting their own."

Two days ago Goldwater told House Republicans he is "ready, willing, and able" to debate Johnson. But Wednesday he said he is still "apprehensive" about the possibility that secret information could slip out in a wide-open meeting.

He said he thinks Johnson will eventually agree to debate him. But Johnson has an audience already. Simply because he's president he can stay in the public eye daily through the campaign, with pronouncements and televised news conferences. Goldwater can't match that, no matter how much money he spends.

World News in Brief

Still Won't Pay U.N.

MOSCOW (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said today the Soviet Union apparently is sticking to its decision not to pay the $52.6 million it owes for U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Thant discussed the matter Tuesday and Wednesday with Premier Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. "I did not get the impression that the Soviet government is prepared to change its policy on this matter," Thant said.

He said his talks had covered wide ground — the future of the United Nations, the financial situation, disarmament, Southeast Asia and the Caribbean.

"Mr. Khrushchev is sincere in his desire to strengthen the United Nations. He wants to see it develop into an effective instrument for the maintenance of peace. But his approach to the problem is different from that of some other member states," Thant said.

Aussies Upset on Meat

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australia has sent a stiff note to the U.S. government on the Senate's approval of legislation repudiating the Australian-American meat agreement.

Informed sources said the note pointed out that cancellation of the agreement would have a potentially serious effect on relations between the United States and Australia.

The legislation, which now is awaiting action by the House of Representatives, would reduce quotas on imports of beef and other meats to counter a decline in prices of domestic products.

No Objection to Bases

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Hayato Ikeda told the new U.S. high commissioner to the Ryukyu Islands today that Japan has no objection to U.S. military bases on Okinawa because they "are an important element in maintaining world peace."

But both Ikeda and Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina stressed to Lt. Gen. Albert Watson II that Japan feels the United States should grant the Okinawans more autonomy in civil affairs.

Churchmen Hit DeGaulle

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Far Eastern Council of Christian Churches has condemned President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia and Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal for total disarmament.

In a resolution adopted Wednesday at the council's fifth general assembly, it said De Gaulle's proposal "encourages the Communists and marks a road of appeasement and retreat and defeat."

Deaths

SEA CLIFF, N.Y. (AP) — Winifred Lenihan, 66, Broadway actress, director of plays and exhibits, and a leader in Actors Equity, died Monday at her home, it was learned Wednesday. Miss Lenihan's picture was on the cover of McCall's magazine in 1928 as one of the "10 most beautiful women in the world."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Marvin E. Rehluss, 76, inventor of a tube used in probing the stomach and intestines, died Wednesday in Jefferson Hospital. First appointed to the Jefferson staff in 1936, he also is credited with developing a new method of gastric analysis.

In the playing of chimes, a set of four bells can be played in 24 different orders.

Library Now Has File on Speakers

A speaker's file has been started by Kingston Library as a special service to groups and organizations in Ulster County.

This file lists persons available to give talks before groups, a card gives information on the lecture, such as subject, a summary of the lecture, its length, whether audio-visual materials will be used, and background on the speaker for an introduction.

Any person who would like to be included in the speakers file is invited to contact the library. The library is happy to act as a clearinghouse. No charge is made for this service. Groups may find the speakers file useful for adding variety to their programs and increasing member interest. Following is a sample of some of the talks available:

How to Keep Up to Date In—? (Name subject). This program is adaptable to a club's field of interest. The speaker will discuss the current materials available in a particular subject and how to obtain them, including any free services and publications. The talk is illustrated with exhibit publications. Thirty minutes. No charge.

Illiteracy — America's Growing Problem. This program describes the crisis that America is fast approaching: the fact that an adult needs to read at least on the fourth grade level to hold a job, and yet 10 per cent of U. S. adults do not. Hints are given on improving reading speed. 30 minutes. No charge.

Government Documents. While most people are not aware of it, the U. S. Government is one of the world's largest publishing concerns. Much of this material may be obtained free for the asking, and some of it is extremely valuable. The speaker describes how to discover what is available and how to trace a bill through Congress. This lecture may be slanted in whichever direction the group desires, from patents to home canning. The talk is illustrated with exhibit publications. 30 minutes. No charge.

Art, Sculpture Exhibits to Open At Gladstone's

The exhibits at Gladstone Galleries in Woodstock opening Saturday, August 1, will present a stellar showing of painting and sculpture by two outstanding artists, Craig Rubadoux and Irving Lehman. A large attendance is expected, including visitors from a wide area who have already acquired earlier works of these artists.

Craig Rubadoux, paintings are receiving national recognition for their distinctiveness and genius in presenting a galaxy of figures, revealing with incisive commentary and wit the condition and gesture of man. An exhibition of his works, titled "Man and Beast by Rubadoux" was organized just recently by the Ringling Museum and circulated to museums and galleries throughout the southeast. James Camp, curator of art at the University of South Florida, described Rubadoux as "Potentially, the outstanding Florida artist of his generation."

Rubadoux, born in Rochester, New York, was largely self-taught as an artist. In 1956-58 he went to Europe with Ben Stahl and lived and worked in Torremolinos in the Spanish maritime province of Malaga. In 1959-61 he taught in Westport, Conn. He is presently on the staff of the Department of Education of the Ringling Museum in Sarasota. He has had one-man exhibitions in Malaga and in Madrid, Spain; in Westport, Miami, St. Petersburg, Sarasota and at Gladstone Galleries in Woodstock.

Irving Lehman is a New York artist, whose versatility as a painter and sculptor is well known. It has been said of Lehman that his awareness of both the material and mood of his age are stunningly conveyed in his creations. Lehman has worked widely both in this country and abroad. His works are in the permanent collections of Oxford University, the National Bezael Museum in Israel, the Musee d'Art Populaire Juif at Paris. He has won numerous prizes for his sculpture and painting, the most recent being from the Water Color Society of Alabama, the Washington Water Color Society, and two annual awards for Painting and Sculpture by the Brooklyn Society of Artists. The present exhibit at Gladstone Galleries will present a collection of Lehman's sensitive drawings and watercolors, his vivid, expressive oils and his intensely dynamic sculpture. The exhibits of Rubadoux and Lehman will be on view at Gladstone Galleries until August 14.

Arrested on Thruway

Two youths were arrested Wednesday on the Thruway in a car reported stolen from Nassau County. They were Joel Alan Eisenstein, 16, and a 15-year-old whose name cannot be given due to his age. State police said they were arrested on the Thruway by Trooper J. F. Ryan and turned over to troopers at the Leeds substation for their return to Nassau township. They said Eisenstein would be charged with grand larceny while the younger boy would be petitioned in Family Court. The youths allegedly took a 1962 model car owned by a New York City man. Senior Investigator James Buckley and Investigator Pasquale Romagnolo, Leeds substation, investigated.

Father Won't Accept Verdict in Son's Death

ATLANTA (AP)—The death of a Negro boy found mysteriously hanging four weeks ago has been officially listed as suicide.

Dr. Henry M. Snell, Fulton County medical examiner, in a certificate signed Wednesday gave the cause of death as "asphyxia due to hanging." The verdict: suicide.

The body of 14-year-old Jerry Maxey was found July 1 hanging from an oak tree in a lonely wooded area of northwest Atlanta.

But the boy's father, Robert Maxey Sr., said he could not accept the suicide finding.

"Jerry wouldn't have killed himself," he declared. "I don't believe it."

Projects Aimed to Give Jobless Needed Skills

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—At an estimated cost of $892,501, New York State plans to finance five new projects aimed at giving 890 unemployed persons skills needed to find jobs.

Three of the projects are in Rochester, one is in Oneida, and the fifth is in New York City. They are budgeted at $872,501. The projects are under the state's Manpower Development and Training program.

The projects, announced Wednesday, have been approved by the State Education Department and the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department. They will be administered by local boards of education.

$182.50 for Goldwater

VIDALIA, Ga. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign coffers benefited to the tune of $182.50 when the Georgia-Florida flu-cured tobacco market opened.

Farmer Frank Moore, 35, sold 146 pounds of tobacco in Goldwater's name Wednesday and said the money would go to the senator's presidential campaign.

A tobacco company buyer paid $1.25 a pound for the tobacco — about twice the going rate.

Beaver's Project Ends

LITTLE FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A beaver recently chose a storm drain in this Mohawk Valley community as the place to build a dam. But its construction project ended Monday after conservation officers were notified.

The men trapped the beaver about 75 feet inside the drain and released it, according to the Adirondacks.

Father Won't Accept Verdict in Son's Death

ATLANTA (AP)—The death of a Negro boy found mysteriously hanged four weeks ago has been officially listed as suicide.
Dr. Henry M. Snell, Fulton County medical examiner, in a certificate signed Wednesday gave the cause of death as "asphyxia due to hanging." The verdict: suicide.
The body of 14-year-old Jerry Maxey was found July 1 hanging from an oak tree in a lonely wooded area of northwest Atlanta.
But the boy's father, Robert Maxey Sr., said he could not accept the suicide finding.
"Jerry wouldn't have killed himself," he declared. "I don't believe it."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has invited presidents of state universities to a White House conference Aug. 13.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congressional committee reported today that civilian employment by the federal government showed a slight increase during June.

Figures released by the Joint

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson advised the National Agricultural Advisory Commission Wednesday to put partisanship and prejudice aside to improve prosperity on the nation's farms.

SIGNS OF LIFE—It would pay every driver to study these six highway signs—the uniform shapes—for five minutes and learn to identify them by their shape. It would pay him, too, to heed and obey them every time he sees them. They are put up for only one reason—to save his life. From left to right, they are: YIELD—an inverted triangle which means "yield right of way." REGULATION—a vertical rectangle which calls attention to a vital road regulation such as "No Right Turn." WARNING—a diamond-shaped sign which means a warning of some kind, such as "Slow, children" or "Divided Highway." RAILROAD CROSSING—A circular sign which warns of a railroad crossing just ahead. Remember—trains do still run, and they rarely lose a race with a car to a grade crossing. FULL STOP—an octagonal-shaped sign which always means "Stop!" INFORMATION—a horizontal rectangle which gives information, such as "Road Closed" or "Junction." In addition to these basic signs there are, of course, shields which carry route numbers, school zone signs and others. Obey the signs and you'll live longer!

Information.

SIGNS OF LIFE—It would pay every driver to study these six highway signs—the uniform shapes—for five minutes and learn to identify them by their shape. It would pay him, too, to heed and obey them every time he sees them. They are put up for only one reason—to save his life. From left to right, they are: YIELD—an inverted triangle which means "yield right of way." REGULATION—a vertical rectangle which calls attention to a vital road regulation such as "No Right Turn." WARNING—a diamond-shaped sign which means a warning of some kind, such as "Slow, children" or "Divided Highway." RAILROAD CROSSING—A circular sign which warns of a railroad crossing just ahead. Remember—trains do still run, and they rarely lose a race with a car to a grade crossing. FULL STOP—an octagonal-shaped sign which always means "Stop!" INFORMATION—a horizontal rectangle which gives information, such as "Road Closed" or "Junction." In addition to these basic signs there are, of course, shields which carry route numbers, school zone signs and others. Obey the signs and you'll live longer!

Park Dog Shows to Start Aug. 3, Finals on 19th

The Kingston Recreation Department will hold its annual Kid's Dog Shows the week of August 3 in the various City Parks. These events are co-sponsored by the recreation Department and the Ken-L-Ration Company who provide the many awards given to the owners of dogs who finish in the first three places in the different classifications.

The Kids Dog Shows present an unusual activity that reaches youths who do not participate in any other phase of the program. Any and all dogs are eligible to enter the various classifications of park shows. The only dogs not eligible to compete are dogs not six months of age. "We welcome your dog whether he or she is a registered pedigree dog or just a plain mutt," it was announced. The classifications are so set up that any dog has an opportunity to win any and all classifications.

The shows held in the local parks are preliminary shows for the grand finals which will be held at Forsyth Park Wednesday, Aug. 19 during the Ulster County Fair. All dogs placing in any of the local park shows automatically become eligible for the county finals where they will compete against dogs winning the various shows throughout the county. Top prize in the County Finals will again be a bicycle awarded to the boy or girl whose dog is judged Best of Show.

There will be eight classifications in all shows with cups, T-shirts, coloring sets, watches and many other prizes being awarded to dogs competing in the Recreation Department Shows. Classifications offered are:

- (1) Largest Dog
- (2) Smallest Dog
- (3) Dog with longest tail
- (4) Dog with smallest tail
- (5) Best Costumed Dog
- (6) Best Cared for Dog
- (7) Best Trick Dog
- (8) Best of Show

Local parks shows will be held as follows:
Monday, Aug. 3, Block Park, 11 a. m.
Tuesday, Aug. 3, Hasbrouck Park, 11 a. m.
Wednesday, Aug. 5, Hutton Park, 11 a. m.
Thursday, Aug. 6, Forsyth Park, 11 a. m.

Hudson's Mayor May Resign Due To Council Rift

Reports are being circulated in Hudson that Mayor Samuel T. Wheeler may resign his office because of an uncooperative common council.

Mayor Wheeler had "no comment" to make when asked as to the truth of the reports. The report of Mayor Wheeler's possible resignation has become wide spread since a special meeting on Monday of the common council when the majority of the aldermen were quick to criticize the mayor's special message per-

Long Night in Commons

LONDON (AP) — The House of Commons sat all night for its longest session of this Parliament. The session lasted 18 hours and 26 minutes, four minutes short of the longest sitting in the past 10 years. Only 12 members were still in the House when it adjourned at 8:40 a. m. The debate officially was on what to do with public funds set up by George III in 1787. By tradition, it is the one occasion when members can talk on any subject they wish.

taining to the city's water supply. Hudson faced with a critical water shortage, will again have the water situation reviewed at a special meeting of the council this evening.

Two Are Charged In $8 Robbery At Wawarsing

Two itinerant workers were arrested Wednesday afternoon on a first-degree robbery charge after they allegedly assaulted and took $8 from a man in the Town of Wawarsing.

Confined in Ulster County jail in lieu of $5,000 bail each were William Moyer, 21, of Washington, D.C., and Eugene Ryan, 30, who gave his address as 318 East 27th Street, New York City. Arraigned on the felony charge before Peace Justice Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing, they demanded a preliminary examination, which was set down for Aug. 1. State Police at Ellenville substation said the pair allegedly assaulted and took the money from Hollen Richards Jr., on the old Minnewaska Trail near Route 44.55, Kerhonkson, Wednesday afternoon. The pair was arrested a short time later in Ellenville. State Police and investigators of the BCI at Ellenville made the investigation and arrests along with the Ellenville Police Department.

To Open Office For Insurance At Hi-Lo Aug. 1

FRANK A. ADAMS

Frank A. Adams, local agent for the Nationwide Insurance Company, and Philip Harris, president of the Hi-Lo Department Store in Port Ewen, announced today in a joint statement that Adams will rent space and conduct his business from Hi-Lo starting on or about Aug. 1.

The arrangement will mark the first time that a complete insurance service has been offered from a department store in the Hudson Valley, they said.

Adams, of 82 Crane Street, former alderman of the Fifth Ward, was an insurance adjuster for Nationwide for seven years prior to his appointment about two years ago as an agent. He is thoroughly trained in all phases of the insurance field. His office will be located in the alcove of the Hi-Lo store and he will maintain business hours from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

In making the announcement, both Adams and Harris emphasized the convenience of securing insurance service which will be available to all Hi-Lo Department Store customers.

See Defoliation As Serious in Unsprayed Lands

Serious defoliation in Ulster County forest lands have been reported by Joseph Roberty, forest pest control foreman of the State Conservation Department.

For the past several years, the Gypsy Moth has been building up in Ulster County. In the fall and winter of 1963 and 1964 over 10,000 acres was found to have a build-up at 500 or more egg clusters per acre or enough to warrant spraying. Due to the objection of landowners, over a quarter of this area had to be dropped out of the spray area, Roberty said.

Serious defoliation began to show in hardwood area in the middle of May and continued to grow until the end of June. The Woodstock area seems to be the most heavily infested. Large areas of hardwood defoliation can be seen on Overlook Mountain, Round Top Mountain and Tremper Mountain, he said.

An aerial survey was made in early July and defoliated areas were found from the Greene County line south to Ellenville. Some of these areas are 1,000 acres and over.

The Gypsy Moth has caused a loss of growth in timber stands, seriously effected the food and cover for birds and game and opened the woods and allowed the duff on the forest floor to dry out, thereby increasing the danger of forest fire. The defoliation effects the aesthetic value of the woods and reduces the value of the area as a water shed, Roberty said.

A ground survey will be conducted during the fall and winter. An estimate of 30,000 acres has been made of the areas that will require spraying in the

Palenville Motorist Cited After Mishap

A Palenville motorist was cited for a traffic violation after a two-car collision Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of Glasco Turnpike and Route 32, Town of Saugerties.

Peter Macaluso, 17, of Box 319, Palenville, was issued a summons by Trooper John Turk for passing a stop sign. The youth is scheduled to appear before Peace Justice William Brinnier to answer the summons on Aug. 4.

Trooper Turk said Ralph Alan Schwartz, 66, of 413 Lehigh Street, Hokendauqua, Pa., was driving south on Route 32 and Macaluso was traveling west on Glasco Turnpike when the latter failed to stop at a stop sign and struck the Schwartz vehicle.

Rochester GOP Votes To Support Ticket

spring of 1965. We hope to secure the landowners permission to spray most of this timbered land, and to prevent the spread of this forest pest into Orange and Sullivan Counties, he concluded.

Dear Abby . . .

Maybe Occupational Hazard

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago I went to a hospital and stayed there for six weeks. Last week I had to go back to the same hospital for a little corrective surgery, and what do you think the head nurse greeted me with? "Oh, no, not YOU again, Mrs. So-and-So! When the nurses hear you're back they'll shoot themselves!" Then she laughed. I failed to see anything funny in her remark. When I saw my doctor I reported the incident to him, and he laughed, too. Then he patted me on the shoulder and said, "Oh, don't pay any attention to her. She's a little screwy." Why would a hospital hire a "screwy" head nurse?

OFFENDED

DEAR OFFENDED: She probably wasn't "screwy" when they hired her.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and baby-sit to earn money for clothes. About once a week I sit for a lady who is getting a divorce. She has two small children. She has all her bureau drawers and her desk drawers "sealed" with big wide strips of adhesive tape. Every closet in her house is locked, and she even keeps a padlock on her refrigerator. She told me that she trusted me, but in case I got bored or curious she didn't want me going through her things. Abby, I would never think of doing such a thing. Last time I was there she said if I tried to remove the adhesive tape and seal it back my fingerprints would be on the tape and I'd never get away with it. This hurt me. Do you think there is something wrong with her? I'm afraid if I tell my parents they won't let me sit for her any more, and I need the money. What should I do?

NERVOUS GIRL

DEAR NERVOUS: Yes, I think there is definitely something wrong with her. Tell your parents and abide by their decision.

DEAR ABBY: I have been employed in this office only a short time, but it is an ideal place to work and I would like to remain here. I am not the kind of person who indulges in gossip, but: The telephone operator here told me that the boss, a family man, is carrying on an affair with a woman who calls him at the office and uses a phony name. The telephone operator listens in on all his calls, so she is not guessing. The boss is a fine man, and seems so proud of his family that it is hard to believe that he is leading a double life. I am afraid his wife will find out about it and their home will be broken up. Should I tell the boss what I know so he can be more careful?

NEW GIRL

DEAR NEW: Mind your own business, and tell the telephone operator that if she knows what is good for her, she should mind hers. If the boss chooses to skate on thin ice, let him take his chances.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CAN'T SLEEP" IN TROY: Tell your husband what's on your mind and give him a fair chance to defend himself. You could be wrong.

NORTH MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The city of North Miami recently annexed a parcel of land and was embarrassed to discover an incinerator, operated by a super-market.

Councilman Leonard Kimball said "I don't know how this got in. We don't allow an individual to burn his garbage here. Why would we let a business do it?"

Generally, four or five colors can be distinguished in a rainbow.

The most remarkable coral formation in the world is the Great Barrier Reef which lies off the northeast coast of Australia. It extends for 1,250 miles and follows fairly closely the edge of the continental shelf—the 100-fathom line—and varies in its distance from the coastline from 20 miles to as much as 200 miles.

Bandana Scarves Highlight Crahay's Lanvin Collection

By LOUISE HICKMAN

PARIS (AP) — Soft, bandana-triangle scarves were the key to Jules Crahay's collection for Lanvin, shown in Paris today in the annual spotlight on fall and winter fashions.

They wrapped up everything from small-jacket suits to grand ball gowns. They came in soft wools, fluid crepes, jeweled laces and wispy organdies. Their hanky points reached hip level or swept the floor.

Last season, Crahay made a point with scarves, too. Then they were fringed, loop-around rectangles. There were more of these today in black and white striped mink or in black and white patterned ponyskin with fine silk fringes.

Bulky, wrappy coats and jackets had a scarf extension that looped around the neck.

Open bolero suits had tidy caravat-scarf fill-ins, flat and wide, trimly belted in at the waist.

Scarf-point cowed hoods, in mink, went over matching mink pullovers to wear with skirt-length pants and clocked stockings. Rounded, mink-hemmed shoulder cowls topped slim, supple cocktail dresses.

Slim shift dresses, tubular or semi-fit, were worn under jackets and coats. They had round, collarless necklines and polo-shirt buttoning.

Crahay endorsed pants for travel only. As jump suits with tubular, skirt-length trousers, they were worn with three-quarter coats or mink sweaters, sheer clocked stockings and flat moccasins. Suits of similar shape were worn with dyed-to-match open mesh stockings. Some had three-quarter capes, over three-quarter "sweater" tunics.

Coats were closed shift shapes with long, narrow sleeves, or roomy, fur-lined wraps.

The Lanvin evening clothes were beautiful. Stiff fabrics and a slim, slightly belled shape prevailed. Many gowns had long, tight sleeves.

There were lots of jeweled bolero effects. Tiny short-sleeved bolero yokes were embroidered on long-sleeved tubular dresses.

BREAK BREAD BEFORE EATING

Q: Is it correct to break a slice of bread into quarters, or at least halves, then butter each piece just before eating it? I don't see it done very often when I am eating out. Am I wrong, old-fashioned, or is breaking bread before buttering it just for the lifted-pinkie set?

A: Buttering a whole slice of bread before eating it is not good table manners. Bread should always be broken into moderate-sized pieces before being eaten. If it is to be buttered, a piece is held on the edge of the bread and butter plate and enough butter spread on it. Hot breads or biscuits may be buttered whole while still hot and then broken into mouth-size pieces before eating.

Signing Business Letters

Q: I am a business partner with my husband. What is the proper way to sign my name to letters that I, as office manager, must write?

A: You sign Jane Smith with Mrs. John Smith in parenthesis underneath.

Black Tie Invitations

Q: Is it proper to use the words "Black Tie" on invitations that are being sent to women as well as men?

A: "Black Tie" is correct and means that men will wear tuxedos and the women dinner or simple evening dresses.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet entitled, "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

Reuter, Prober Here in 1957, Named on Slate

A former Catskill man who was state commissioner of investigation, Arthur L. Reuter, was named by the Democratic judicial convention Tuesday at White Plains as a candidate for Supreme Court justice in the Ninth Judicial District.

Reuter conducted an investigation into Kingston and Ulster County irregularities in 1957-58 prior to the taking over of that investigation by Bernard Tompkins.

The local investigation began as a probe into Kingston police activities and extended into a county-wide investigation of alleged road oil corruption activities in certain townships.

Also named at the White Plains convention was James F. Hawkins, former Democratic chairman of Dutchess County, who has served as alderman and a city judge in Poughkeepsie.

Reuter and Hawkins will oppose incumbent Justices Elbert T. Gallagher and Robert Doscher, two 14-year veterans who were renominated Tuesday by the Republican convention.

The Ninth District includes Dutchess, Westchester, Rockland, Putnam and Orange Counties.

Roberts Has Grand Slammer In 1st Frame

Jim Roberts belted a first inning grand-slam home run and Joe Skipp hurled a neat four-bitter as Highland defeated the Kingston Americans, 7-1, last night at Kingman Park to capture honors in the District Little league playoffs.

The hustling Highlanders put the game out of reach in the very first frame, scoring six runs. Given this margin, Skipp wiggled out of a bases loaded jam in the second frame and hurled shutout ball until Dwight Byrd hit him for a home run in the sixth.

Roberts, whose homer enabled Highland to win its semi-final contest, stroked a pitch over the fence to score three runners ahead of him. The winners added two markers more in the frame and were home free.

Jim Pezzo accounted for the final Highland run with a blast over the fence in the fourth frame.

McCovey Leads SF Triumph; Jim Bouton Stops Los Angeles

Two-Run Single Tops Phils, 6-3; Mets Rained Out

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

You're Dennis Bennett, the Philadelphia Phillies' hard-throwing young left-hander. Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's slugging first baseman is at bat.

Bennett fanned Cepeda in the second inning of Wednesday night's 6-3 Giants' victory over Philadelphia and it led to Willie McCovey. For the Phillies, that meant nothing but trouble.

Cepeda wrenched his right shoulder chasing Bennett's pitches and had to leave the game in the top of the sixth inning. Giant Manager Alvin Dark inserted McCovey, who's been fighting a season-long slump and the move paid off handsomely.

McCovey looked like the same old 203 hitter striking out in the sixth but in the eighth, his two-out double scored Willie Mays with the tying run as the Giants pulled even at 3-3.

Two innings later the Giants had loaded the bases against Phillie relief ace Jack Baldschun. McCovey worked the count full and then rapped a two-run single up the middle putting the Giants on top to stay.

Marichal Wins

Sharing the hero - roles with McCovey were Juan Marichal, whose four-hitter throttled the Phillies, and Jim Ray Hart, who belted a pair of solo homers to balance circuits by Richie Allen and Ruben Amaro in the early innings.

Elsewhere in the NL, Pittsburgh beat Houston, 5-2. St. Louis whipped Chicago 9-1 and Milwaukee turned back Cincinnati 6-2. New York and Los Angeles were rained out.

"You never know about this game," said Dark after McCovey's hits bailed the Giants out and moved San Francisco back within a half-game of the Phillies.

For Marichal, the league's second 15-game winner, it was a strong performance. He retired the last 19 men he faced and didn't allow a hit after the fourth inning.

Roberto Clemente, the NL's leading hitter, raised his average to .345 with two hits and drove in a pair of runs in the Pirates' victory. Bob Friend went the distance for his ninth win in 19 decisions and his battery-mate, Jim Paggiaroni, belted a home run.

Farrell Bows Again

Houston's Dick Farrell, who hasn't won in six weeks, lost his seventh against 10 victories.

Farrell became the major leagues' first 10-game winner June 14 and has failed to win in 10 starts since then.

St. Louis sent 12 batters up in a seven-run seventh inning to rout the Cubs. The spurge came against Lew Burdette, Bobby Shantz and Lindy McDaniel, all former Cardinals.

Curt Simmons didn't allow a hit for 5 1-3 innings and picked up his 11th victory as the Cardinals won their fifth straight.

The Braves jumped on Joe Nuxhall for five quick runs in the first inning and that was all Tony Cloninger needed to coast to his 10th victory. Joe Torre's two-run double was the key hit in the big inning.

Chico Ruiz, brought up from San Diego last week, drove in both Reds' runs with a single and a double.

The Mets led the Dodgers 3-0 after one inning before rain forced postponement of their game.

Casey Celebrates Birthday; Was Star Player for 15 Years

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It would have been impossible to foretell back in 1910 that Charles Dillon Stengel, known to millions of baseball fans today as Casey, would some day become a big league manager, let alone one of the most successful who ever lived.

As a busher in Maysville, Ky., in the Blue Grass League, he was better known as a clown than as a ball player. He wore loud ties with his baseball uniform and he insisted on practicing sliding as he trotted to his position in the outfield.

There was an insane asylum near the park across from the center field fence and the inmates always cheered when they saw him slide. Casey's manager used to tap his head, point to the asylum and say: "It's only a matter of time, Stengel."

Gags and all, Stengel has outlasted all his 1910 contemporaries. As a player, he lasted 15 years and was a star in the 1923 World Series. It was as a manager that he earned undying fame. The Old Professor was 74 years old today, give or take a year and depending on which record book you believe and every one of his years, 54 in baseball, has been crammed with vibrant living.

Third Year With Mets

He is completing his third year as manager of the National League doormat New York Mets after having won 10 pennants and seven world championships in 12 years as manager of the New York Yankees.

A very complex, amazing, irascible and wonderful personality is the gnarled, wordy man who has had a running feud with silence for more than three score and ten years.

A unique symbol of the game to millions, he has his own special language, his own inimitable mannerisms and his own rules on managing. He has been praised and criticized, gloried and ridiculed.

He has the appearance of a shaggy St. Bernard but is a gentleman of social graces. He has been called a clown, yet he is a bank president.

A Baseball Legend

So much has been written about this man that he has become a baseball legend. He is a natural born comedian but behind his clownishness is a baseball brain second to none in wisdom.

On and off, Stengel has been managing baseball teams since 1926. How much longer he will continue as a manager is problematical. He shrugs off any direct query as to his future with the retort: "Most men my age are dead by now."

He is well fixed financially and at around $100,000 a year, he must be the highest paid manager in the history of the game. But no man is more dedicated to the game.

One thing is certain. Shea Stadium, the Mets, the National League, all of baseball, will never be the same when Casey is gone.

BATTING — Willie McCovey, San Francisco, drove in the tying run with an eighth-inning double, then broke the 3-3 deadlock with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the 10th as the Giants defeated National League-leading Philadelphia 6-3.

Highland Raps Kingston Americans, 7-1, for LL Title

Kitty Fowler Wins Net Tournament in Auburn

Kitty Fowler of Kingston won the 16 and under Girls Tennis Junior Chamber of Commerce championship with straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, victories in the State Youth and Sports Finals tournament over the weekend in Auburn.

Miss Fowler, a resident of Wilke Avenue, will represent New York State at the national finals in St. Paul, Minnesota from Aug. 3-8.

Other local teenagers also did well in the competition at Auburn.

Bruce Sumner and Tom Krom were beaten in the respective divisions of the boys' finals. Sumner lost a first round match to Mike Paine, 6-1, 6-3. Krom was beaten in the second round, 6-4, 6-3.

Pamela Tiso of Mt. Tremper, the Kingston Jaycees entry in the Teen Age Rodeo, finished third among 20 girls with a score of 427. She was 14th in the overall competition among a field of 72.

Dan Gaffney and Neil Pauker of Kingston shot 151 and 156 in the junior golf tournament, placing them 14th and 20th in the field of 85 contestants. Bob Duval of Amsterdam won the tourney with a score of 141, one over-par.

Roberts Has Grand Slammer In 1st Frame

Jim Roberts belted a first-inning grand-slam home run and Joe Skipp hurled a neat four-hitter as Highland defeated the Kingston Americans, 7-1, last night at Kingman Park to capture honors in the District Little League playoffs.

The hustling Highlanders put the game out of reach in the very first frame, scoring six runs. Given this margin, Skipp wiggled out of a bases loaded jam in the second frame and hurled shutout ball until Dwight Byrd hit him for a home run in the sixth.

Roberts, whose homer enabled Highland to win its semi-final contest, stroked a pitch over the fence to score three runners ahead of him. The winners added two markers more in the frame and were home free.

Jim Pezzo accounted for the final Highland run with a blast over the fence in the fourth frame.

A Baseball Legend

So much has been written about this man that he has become a baseball legend. He is a natural born comedian but behind his clownishness is a baseball brain second to none in wisdom.

On and off, Stengel has been managing baseball teams since 1926. How much longer he will continue as a manager is problematical. He shrugs off any direct query as to his future with the retort: "Most men my age are dead by now."

He is well fixed financially and at around $100,000 a year, he must be the highest paid manager in the history of the game. But no man is more dedicated to the game.

One thing is certain. Shea Stadium, the Mets, the National League, all of baseball, will never be the same when Casey is gone.

BATTING — Willie McCovey, San Francisco, drove in the tying run with an eighth-inning double, then broke the 3-3 deadlock with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the 10th as the Giants defeated National League-leading Philadelphia 6-3.

PITCHING — Jim Bouton, New York, pitched a four-hitter and extended his scoreless string against Los Angeles to 37 innings in the Yankees' 5-0 triumph over the Angels.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET—Maneuver (5th)
UPSET CHANCE—Sonny Frost (8th)

1. LEONARD'S DREAM gets the call in a race of non-winners. JOSEPE and SPEEDY FREIGHT would have better chances with inside posts.

2. MISSILE HANOVER has speed to burn. Off recent performances, might be ready to win one. COPPER ADIOS is a consistent horse but driver is in a slump. EARLY SPRING another chronic breaker.

3. RED RODNEY has to be picked with Hodgins doing the driving. DAMAR'S MILK MAN was impressive at Batavia. GUY BURKE has favorable position but must stay on gait.

4. FANCY GEORGIE has lost to the best. Can take this despite post. NEVLE GOLFER will be in there battling at the finish. PAPER TIGER shows some fair efforts.

5. MANEUVER finally gets a good post. Looks like a lock here. TINY D. has won two straight but is stepping up in class. MARCEL MIR has good early speed. Might hang on.

6. BANNER BOY in the Stanley Dancer stable. Enough said. YANKEE GAL has some potential. HIGH SEAS went well in initial two starts.

7. SUCCESS SID has the pole and is in cheap. However, Norris is no Cobb. SUGAR HEIR received an awful drive the last time. Watch out here. SYLVIA'S DREAM is better than the rest.

8. SPECTER still seeks that first win. Lost in the final 20 yards last week. SONNY FROST is steady and can upset this field. RAPID'S SON due to improve under Popfinger's handling.

9. FAIR MARKET might not be caught. MERCURY DON will be battling for the early lead. SUMTER REBEL can win this if the first two set a blistering pace.

Defeats G-G's, 4-2, on 2-Hitter By Bill Costello

Armstrong-Commanche broke a 2-2 tie with a pair of runs in the sixth inning to defeat G-G's Rest, 4-2, and clinched the City Softball League title last night.

Billy Costello hurled a two-hitter and fanned 11 batters as the champions won their 15th game in 16 starts.

A home run by Richie Sickler and a single by Bob Norton were the only safeties off Costello. His mates had six hits, including a pair of doubles and a triple by swift Hobie Armstrong.

G-G's tallied once in the second and another time in the fourth inning. The winners had two runs in each of the fourth and sixth frames to clinch the game and the championship.

Palmer Enters Canadian Open

MONTREAL (AP) — Golf's royalty — and some of its unknowns — tee off today in the first round of the $50,000 Canadian Open.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and defending champion Doug Ford were among the American representatives in the 72-hole event at Montreal's Pinegrove course.

Canadian stars Stan Leonard and George Knudson, South Africa's Gary Player and Juan (Chi) Rodriguez of Puerto Rico were others bidding for the championship slice of $7,500.

Lesser lights including Charlie Coody of Fort Worth, Tex., and Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., who shared qualifying honors Monday, also will be battling the par-71 layout. Coody fired a hole-in-one on the way to his two-under-par 69 in Monday's qualifying round.

Palmer and Nicklaus arrived Wednesday in the midst of a driving thunderstorm but managed to get in a practice round — to the delight of 2,000 enthusiasts. Palmer shot a 71 and Nicklaus a 73.

Bobby Nichols Survives Auto Mishap To Become One of Top Young Golfers

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—On Sept. 3, 1952, Bobby Nichols, star all around athlete at Louisville's St. Xavier High School, and group of schoolmates were speeding over a highway at 107 miles an hour.

Suddenly the car came to a sharp curve. There was a screech of brakes and a sickening crash. The car became an ugly mass of smoking, twisted metal.

Young Bobby was pulled from the wreckage and taken to a hospital, barely alive. He had a broken pelvis, wrenched back, brain concussion and internal injuries. He was unconscious for 13 days, paralyzed from the waist down.

Nichols had been a high school football and basketball player as well as golfer. For 96 days he lay on his back in the hospital, his athletic career apparently ruined. There was some doubt he could ever walk.

much less run, again.

Wrote to Hogan

Without Nichols knowing it, a high school teacher, hoping to bring the injured boy comfort and inspiration, wrote a letter to Ben Hogan, who almost had lost his life in a similar accident three years before.

Hogan, who didn't know the youngster, immediately dispatched a "chin up" letter to the hospital.

Nichols read and re-read the letter. He determined to get back his full health and then follow Hogan's example in becoming the greatest golfer in the world.

Bobby Nichols, now 28, a strapping 6-foot-2, 200-pounder without an ailing muscle or broken bone to show for his accident, struck the first blow in that direction 12 days ago when he won the 46th PGA golf championship with a record score of 271, leading every round.

After his victory, the boyish, good-looking Kentuckian told newsmen he would spend part of his $18,000 prize money in er-

Turned Pro in 1959

He worked in the Texas oil fields before turning professional in 1959. Backed by the tour by friends at the Midland, Tex., Country Club, he won only $5,701.21 in his first full year in 1960. He finished in the top ten of 12 tournaments in 1961, boosting his earnings to $15,516.31.

He won his first tournament early in 1962 when he shot a final round 64 to take the St. Petersburg Open. Later he won the Houston Classic and finished fourth in the U.S. Open at Oakmont. He finished ninth in the money winning list with $34,311.

Last year he won the Seattle Open and collected $33,604. This year promises to be the best for Bobby, his wife, Nancy, 4-year-old son and a second offspring on the way.

"Winning the PGA gives me a real boost," Bobby says, "maybe I'm on the move."

Austin, Sykes In Girls' Final

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Debbie Austin of Oneida and Gail Sykes of Schenectady took aim at each other today for the big prize in the State Junior Girls' Amateur Golf tournament.

Miss Austin, runner-up in last year's State Women's Amateur Tournament, scored a 3 and 1 triumph over Mary Margaret Dwyer of Geneva.

Miss Sykes won, 5 and 4, over Linda Mazzarelli of Newburgh. Today's finalists were co-medalists in the qualifying round of the junior tournament over the par - 75, 5,640 - yard course.

Chalet Women's

An organizational meeting of the Chalet Women's Pioneer league will be held Monday, Aug. 3, 8:30 p.m. at the Chalet Lane, Rosendale.

Seneca Defeats Iroquois, 4-3

Their offer vs. Our offer

If their tire fails when it's this worn, all other major tire brands will only allow you a few dollars toward a new tire. (You still have to pay about $15 more.)

Don't take our word for it. Read the small print in the guarantee at the bottom of practically every tire ad. You'll find a paragraph that says something like this:

For instance, the tire in the picture has $\frac{1}{4}$ of tread left.

If our tire fails when it's this worn,

U.S. Royal

will replace it with a brand new tire free.

U.S. Royal has developed a tire construction that's so strong, and so unlikely to fail, they can make this unheard-of Special Introductory Offer:

If the tire fails for any reason, except a repairable puncture or deliberate abuse, U.S. Royal will replace it with a brand new tire, free of charge.

This offer applies all the way down to the last $\frac{1}{8}$ of original tread. (And if you want to see just how far down $\frac{1}{8}$ of tread is, look at the picture.)

It doesn't matter how long you own the tire. And it doesn't matter how many miles you go. What's more, road hazards (such as chuck holes or broken glass) are included in the offer.

The U.S. Royal first-line tire (Safety 800)

The tiger's paw (Red-circle Super Safety 800)

The U.S. Royal premium tire (Red-circle Royal Master)

And there's no catch.

Prices start as low as $16.95
6.00 x 13 Black Tubeless
Safety 800, plus tax, exchange

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET—Maneuver (5th)
UPSET CHANCE—Sonny Frost (8th)

1. LEONARD'S DREAM gets the call in a race of non-winners. JOSEPPHE and SPEEDY FREIGHT would have better chances with inside posts.

2. MISSILE HANOVER has speed to burn. Off recent performances, might be ready to win one. COPPER ADIOS is a consistent horse but driver is in a slump. EARLY SPRING another chronic breaker.

3. RED RODNEY has to be picked with Hodgins doing the driving. DAMAR'S MILK MAN was impressive at Batavia. GUY BURKE has favorable position but must stay on gait.

4. FANCY GEORGIE has lost to the best. Can take this despite post. NEVELE GOLFER will be in there battling at the finish. PAPER TIGER shows some fair efforts.

5. MANEUVER finally gets a good post. Looks like a lock here. TINY D. has won two straight but is stepping up in class. MARCEL MIR has good early speed. Might hang on.

6. BANNER BOY in the Stanley Dancer stable. Enough said. YANKEE GAL has some potential. HIGH SEAS went well in initial two starts.

7. SUCCESS SID has the pole and is in cheap. However, Norris is no Cobb. SUGAR HEIR received an awful drive the last time. Watch out here. SYLVIA'S DREAM is better than the rest.

8. SPECTER still seeks that first win. Lost in the final 20 yards last week. SONNY FROST is steady and can upset this field. RAPID'S SON due to improve under Popfinger's handling.

9. FAIR MARKET might not be caught. MERCURY DON will be battling for the early lead. SUMTER REBEL can win this if the first two set a blistering pace.

Defeats G-G's, 4-2, on 2-Hitter By Bill Costello

Armstrong-Commanche broke a 2-2 tie with a pair of runs in the sixth inning to defeat G-G's Rest, 4-2, and clinched the City Softball League title last night.

Billy Costello hurled a two-hitter and fanned 11 batters as the champions won their 15th game in 16 starts.

A home run by Richie Sicker and a single by Bob Norton were the only safeties off Costello. His mates had six hits, including a pair of doubles and a triple by swift Hobbie Armstrong.

G-G's tallied once in the second and another time in the fourth inning. The winners had two runs in each of the fourth and sixth frames to clinch the game and the championship.

Palmer Enters Canadian Open

MONTREAL (AP) — Golf's royalty — and some of its unknowns — tee off today in the first round of the $50,000 Canadian Open.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and defending champion Doug Ford were among the American representatives in the 72-hole event at Montreal's Pinegrove course.

Canadian stars Stan Leonard and George Knudson, South Africa's Gary Player and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez of Puerto Rico were others bidding for the championship slice of $7,500.

Lesser lights including Charlie Coody of Fort Worth, Tex., and Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., who shared qualifying honors Monday, also will be battling the par-71 layout. Coody fired a hole-in-one on the way to his two-under-par 69 in Monday's qualifying round.

Palmer and Nicklaus arrived Wednesday in the midst of a driving thunderstorm but managed to get in a practice round — to the delight of 2,000 enthusiasts. Palmer shot a 71 and Nicklaus a 73.

Bobby Nichols Survives Auto Mishap To Become One of Top Young Golfers

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—On Sept. 3, 1952, Bobby Nichols, star all around athlete at Louisville's St. Xavier High School, and group of schoolmates were speeding over a highway at 107 miles an hour.

Suddenly the car came to a sharp curve. There was a screech of brakes and a sickening crash. The car became an ugly mass of smoking, twisted metal.

Young Bobby was pulled from the wreckage and taken to a hospital, barely alive. He had a broken pelvis, wrenched back, brain concussion and internal injuries. He was unconscious for 13 days, paralyzed from the waist down.

Nichols had been a high school football and basketball player as well as golfer. For 96 days he lay on his back in the hospital, his athletic career apparently ruined. There was some doubt he could ever walk.

Adios Vic Wins At Batavia Downs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS ADIOS VIC nipped Danny Row Girl by a neck to capture the $10,950 Batavia Downs Colt and Filly Stake on Wednesday night.

The 2-year-old bay colt covered the mile in 2:06 for across-the-board payoffs of $5.30, $4.50 and $2.50. Sir Lionel was third.

In other New York State harness racing action: Yonkers Raceway — Smart Money ($7.40) won the $7,000 closing pace before 25,676 rain-spattered fans. Time for the mile was 2:04 1-5.

Saratoga Raceway — The Prude copped the trophy in the $4,500 Vergennes Lions Club trot with a 2:09 1-5 in the first division—a non-betting preliminary. Runymede Pensive ($4.30) took division two in 2:11 2-5. Vernon Downs — Highland Creed ($3.70), with a 2:03 3-5 clocking, won the $1,500 claiming pace.

much less run, again.

Wrote to Hogan Without Nichols knowing it, a high school teacher, hoping to bring the injured boy comfort and inspiration, wrote a letter to Ben Hogan, who almost had lost his life in a similar accident three years before.

Hogan, who didn't know the youngster, immediately dispatched a "chin up" letter to the hospital.

Nichols read and re-read the letter. He determined to get back his full health and then follow Hogan's example in becoming the greatest golfer in the world.

Bobby Nichols, now 28, a strapping 6-foot-2, 200-pounder without an ailing muscle or broken bone to show for his accident, struck the first blow in that direction 12 days ago when he won the 46th PGA golf championship with a record score of 271, leading every round.

After his victory, the boyish, good-looking Kentuckian told newsmen he would spend part of his $18,000 prize money in erecting a shrine to St. Jude.

That's the patron saint of the impossible.

Seneca Defeats Iroquois, 4-3

Two runs in the top of the fifth carried Seneca to a 4-3 win over the Iroquois in a Metropolitan Knott Hole League game.

Three Seneca hurlers combined to hold the losers to one hit, a double by Fred Brinkman. Tom Gumeare, the winner, doubled for Seneca.

Turned Pro in 1959 He worked in the Texas oil fields before turning professional in 1959. Backed by the tour by friends at the Midland, Tex., Country Club, he won only $5,701.21 in his first full year in 1960. He finished in the top ten of 12 tournaments in 1961, boosting his earnings to $15,516.31.

He won his first tournament early in 1962 when he shot a final round 64 to take the St. Petersburg Open. Later he won the Houston Classic and finished fourth in the U.S. Open at Oakland. He finished ninth in the money winning list with $34,311. Last year he won the Seattle Open and collected $33,604.

This year promises to be the best for Bobby, his wife, Nancy, 4-year-old son and a second offspring on the way.

"Winning the PGA gives me a real boost," Bobby says, "maybe I'm on the move."

Miss Austin and Miss Sykes, golfing veterans at the age of 16, had little trouble Wednesday in disposing of semi-final round opponents at the Lake Shore Yacht and Country Club course. Miss Austin, runner-up in last year's State Women's Amateur Tournament, scored a 3 and 1 triumph over Mary Margaret Dwyer of Geneva.

Miss Sykes won, 5 and 4, over Linda Mazzarelli of Newburgh. Today's finalists were co-medalists in the qualifying round of the junior tournament over the par - 75, 5,640 - yard course.

Their offer vs. Our offer

If their tire fails when it's this worn,

all other major tire brands will only allow you a few dollars toward a new tire. (You still have to pay about $15 more.)

Don't take our word for it. Read the small print in the guarantee at the bottom of practically every tire ad. You'll find a paragraph that says something like this:

"In the event of tire failure covered by the guarantee, tire will be pro-rated, based on the amount of original tread remaining."

If it should fail at this point (which means you'd already have gotten about 80% of the wear out of the tire), you'd only be entitled to a small allowance. On a major-brand first line tire, in Chevrolet, Ford or Plymouth sizes, you'd still have to pay an additional $15 or so.

Now compare this with the Special Introductory Offer described at the right.

If our tire fails when it's this worn,

U.S. Royal

will replace it with a brand new tire free.

U.S. Royal has developed a tire construction that's so strong, and so unlikely to fail, they can make this unheard-of Special Introductory Offer:

If the tire fails for any reason, except a repairable puncture or deliberate abuse, U.S. Royal will replace it with a brand new tire, free of charge.

This offer applies all the way down to the last 1/8" of original tread. (And if you want to see just how far down 1/8" of tread is, look at the picture.)

It doesn't matter how long you own the tire. And it doesn't matter how many miles you go. What's more, road hazards (such as chuck holes or broken glass) are included in the offer.

It covers these tires:

- The U.S. Royal first-line tire (Safety 800)
- The tiger's paw (Red-circle Super Safety 800)
- The U.S. Royal premium tire (Red-circle Royal Master)

Local Driver Is Charged After Accident on 9W

John Mertes, 26, of 48 Montrepose Avenue, was charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated and following another vehicle too close, after his car and that of Dorothy Procyshyn, 27, of 427 Walmer Road, Toronto, Canada, were in collision on Route 9W early today.

The drivers of both cars and a passenger in Miss Procyshyn's car suffered injuries and were taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum Ambulance.

Deputy Sheriff Vincent Van Demark and James Freer investigated and reported the two cars were traveling north on Route 9W when the Procyshyn car attempted to make a right turn into the Mirror Lake Lodge entrance. Her car was struck in the rear of the Mertes car.

Injured were Miss Procyshyn who sustained lacerations of the forehead and forearm; Miss Helen Seminowicz, 29, of Toronto, who received lacerations of the forehead and right knee, and Mertes who received a cerebral concussion.

Report Fanatic Warriors Speared 50, Killed 150

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Terrified refugees say warriors of the fanatic Lumpa religious sect speared 50 African men to death in two North Rhodesian villages, drove the surviving women and children into grass huts and burned them alive.

The refugees from neighboring villages said 200 men, women and children died in the slaughter at Chipwata and Et-mabundo, near the sect's headquarters in the northeast sector of this central African British territory.

Some 1,600 Africans fled Wednesday to the mission station at Mulanga, 20 miles away, seeking protection from the disciples of Lumpa "prophetess" Alice Lenshima who have been on a rampage of murder, arson and looting for more than a week.

Previously the government had reported 41 dead, including 30 Lumpas.

Troops stood guard over the refugees while the rest of a 1,200-man force of troops and police prepared a full-scale attack on the marauders. Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda, head of Northern Rhodesia's first all-African government promised: "There will be no appeasement of the sect."

Alice Lenshima, a matronly woman in her 40s, was reported holed up in Kasomo village, six miles from Chinsali. Government officials were reported unwilling to capture her for fear of setting off more violence.

Broome Man Is To Direct GOP Drive in State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Michael N. Seelsi of Johnson City has been chosen by Republican state leaders to direct the GOP's presidential campaign in New York State, according to a high party source.

Seelsi, a veteran party worker who now serves as executive director of the GOP state committee, will be named to the campaign post officially next Thursday, the source disclosed Wednesday night.

State Chairman Fred A. Young has invited all county chairmen to a meeting here on that day to map plans for the New York campaign in behalf of presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Before joining the state committee staff in 1959, Seelsi served as an assistant industrial commissioner in charge of the State Labor Department's Binghamton office. Previously he was assistant to the president of Harpur College.

He is married and the father of four children. Although the family has been living in Albany, Seelsi regards Johnson City as his home.

Goldwater Off For Coast Rest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, counting on new-look campaign debates with President Johnson, begins a week-long California vacation today.

The Arizona senator will fly west aboard a private plane. Aides said he wants the journey to be a vacation trip and nothing else.

Guest of Wedemeyer Goldwater's first California stop is an exclusive, 2,600-acre retreat called Bohemian Grove, 80 miles north of San Francisco.

The senator plans to stay there through Saturday as the guest of retired Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer. The retreat is divided into about 125 separate camps. Goldwater will be stopping at one called the Caveman Club.

On Saturday, Goldwater plans to fly to Newport Beach, south of Los Angeles, to rest with his wife, who is vacationing there. He expects to fly back to Washington next Wednesday for a round of talks with GOP members of the House and Senate Aug. 6 and 7.

Goldwater told newsmen on the eve of his departure he was not surprised there was no quick response from the White House after his Tuesday declaration he was "ready, willing and able" to debate Johnson.

Confident of Debate "I think when the time comes he'll be willing to debate," Goldwater said.

He said that late in August 1960, Richard M. Nixon still had not made up his mind to face John F. Kennedy in the series of television campaign debates.

Goldwater has said the debates were a mistake for the Republicans, and one that contributed to Nixon's defeat.

The senator said he is still apprehensive about debate involving Johnson because he fears U.S. secrets might be aired in the heat of a live television debate.

He suggested a revised format, skipping the reporters' questions that were a fixture of the Kennedy-Nixon debates.

Instead, Goldwater said, his staff and Johnson's could discuss in advance material that could be covered "without having to fear secret or top secret disclosures."

"I think it would be better to have a problem stated and then both sides present their solution," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said that his meeting with Johnson last Friday convinced him that civil rights tensions will not be injected into the campaign by either nominee or the men around him.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's defecting sister, Juanita, has been granted political asylum in Mexico.

A spokesman for the Interior Ministry said papers granting asylum were completed Wednesday.

Miss Castro, 31, who arrived in Mexico City from Havana June 20, requested asylum last Monday night.

Shortly after her arrival in Mexico City, she said on a television program that she defected from her brother's Communist regime because it had betrayed the revolution.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Dorothy Johnson, 19, of Pocatello, Idaho, the only Negro in the Miss USA beauty contest, said Wednesday:

Miss Johnson did not place in the contest finals Wednesday night.

SEN. CLAIR ENGLE

Sen. Engle Dies

his vote in favor of the civil rights bill.

Engle's wife, Lucretia, and a physician were with him when he died early this morning.

The body will be taken to his home in Red Bluff, Calif., for burial. Other funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Doctors said the second operation was "a craniotomy performed to relieve pressure."

The first operation last August came after tests to diagnose the cause of painful cramps in Engle's right arm and leg. Dr. Roy L. Sexton, Engle's personal physician, said that a small amount of brain tissue was removed and that it was not malignant.

In Congress 20 Years

A member of Congress for 20 years, Engle served eight successive terms in the House of Representatives before his election to the Senate in 1958.

Throughout his congressional career, Engle was identified primarily with water resource development in California and the West.

In the Senate, Engle was a member of Armed Services and Commerce committees and the special committees on small business and the problems of the aging.

Born in Bakersfield, Calif., Sept. 21, 1911, Engle was graduated from Chico State College and obtained a law degree from the Hastings College of Law, University of California, in 1933.

Engle's political career began in 1934 with his election as district attorney of Tehama County. In 1942 he was elected to the California State Senate and in August 1943 was elected to fill the seat in the U.S. House left vacant by the death of Rep. Harry Englebright.

Engle's home is in Red Bluff, Calif. He was married to the former Lucretia Caldwell of San Jose, Calif., and had one daughter by a previous marriage, Yvonne Engle Childs.

Neuharth Elected Gannett Director

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Allen H. Neuharth, general manager of the two Gannett newspapers in Rochester Wednesday was elected to the board of directors of Gannett Co., parent firm of the Gannett Newspapers.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective gains among motors, electrical equipments and rails helped push the stock market slightly higher early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The advance was irregular, with plenty of losers. Chemicals were down as a group. Oils and utilities were mixed. Tobaccoes were unchanged to lower.

The market had a hesitant start, but bullish sentiment began to warm up when it was apparent the downward trend of late Wednesday was going no further.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 318.3 with industrials up .6, rails off .6 and utilities up .2. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.39 at $40.26.

Gains approaching a point were made by Chrysler and General Motors. Ford was off a fraction, however, while other leading earmakers were steady.

Calgon raced up more than 3 in further response to its proposals for a 150 per cent stock dividend and increase cash payout.

Westinghouse Electric rose more than a point. Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central each were up nearly a point.

Yank Officer Is Killed in Viet Nam Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army officer was reported killed in a major Viet Cong ambush of a government battalion north of Saigon before dawn today. Government casualties were reported "extremely heavy," reliable sources said.

Admit Major Action

An American spokesman declined immediate comment but acknowledged that a major action had taken place.

If the American death is confirmed, it will be the fifth in South Viet Nam in the past three days and the 164th in action since December 1961.

The Viet Cong ambushed a government unit moving from the regimental headquarters of Ben Sue to Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon, to begin an early morning operation.

Scattered action has been continuing in the Ben Cat region for three days, and the operation today was apparently planned to rout guerrillas still in the area.

However, the guerrillas moved first, ambushing the long line of convoy vehicles and inflicting heavy casualties before melting back into the jungle.

Government pursuit forces were sent in but no contact was made.

In Saigon, combat engineers removed statues and inscriptions from the French war memorial which Vietnamese students had partially wrecked in a demonstration Tuesday night against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize South Viet Nam.

By removing all traces of France from the monument's shaft, the South Vietnamese government apparently hoped to forestall further student demonstrations.

The engineers hauled away two huge bronze figures of French infantrymen, a winged angel and a figure symbolizing peace. Inscriptions bearing the names of French war dead were filled in with cement.

Pierre Salinger, California's Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, arrived in Saigon today on a world tour and said he had found some support in Japan for De Gaulle's neutralization proposal.

The former presidential press secretary said in the Philippines he found strong support for the U.S. effort in Viet Nam.

Young Sees . . .

to cross over to the GOP row to vote for president. Mahoney said the party has 10,400 registered backers, but expects 20 times that many votes.

Earlier, Young said in another statement that the state GOP would conduct a "full-scale" campaign for the national ticket.

He added: "We are realistic enough to realize we face an uphill fight, but the Goldwater-Miller ticket has a fighting chance in New York and we refuse to be written off."

By proposing a single slate of Goldwater electors, the Conservative party hoped to avert presentation of separate GOP and Conservative slates. The Conservative leadership fears this would enhance prospects of Democratic victory, because the slate receiving the majority vote will represent the state at the meeting of the Electoral College.

Local Driver Is Charged After Accident on 9W

John Mertes, 26, of 48 Montrose Avenue, was charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated and following another vehicle too close, after his car and that of Dorothy Procyshyn, 27, of 427 Walmer Road, Toronto, Canada, were in collision on Route 9W early today.

The drivers of both cars and a passenger in Miss Procyshyn's car suffered injuries and were taken to Kingston Hospital by Tatum Ambulance.

Deputy Sheriff Vincent Van Demark and James Freer investigated and reported the two cars were traveling north on Route 9W when the Procyshyn car attempted to make a right turn into the Mirror Lake Lodge entrance. Her car was struck in the rear of the Mertes car.

Injured were Miss Procyshyn who received lacerations of the forehead and forearm; Miss Helen Seminowicz, 29, of Toronto, who received lacerations of the forehead and right knee, and Mertes who received a cerebral concussion.

Report Fanatic Warriors Speared 50, Killed 150

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Terrified refugees say warriors of the fanatic Lumpa religious sect speared 50 African men to death in two North Rhodesian villages, drove the surviving women and children into grass huts and burned them alive.

The refugees from neighboring villages said 200 men, women and children died in the slaughter at Chipwata and Et-mabundo, near the sect's headquarters in the northeast sector of this central African British territory.

Some 1,600 Africans fled Wednesday to the mission station at Mulunga, 20 miles away, seeking protection from the disciples of Lumpa "prophetess" Alice Lenshima who have been on a rampage of murder, arson and looting for more than a week.

Previously the government had reported 41 dead, including 30 Lumpas.

Troops stood guard over the refugees while the rest of a 1,200-man force of troops and police prepared a full-scale attack on the marauders. Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda, head of Northern Rhodesia's first all-African government promised: "There will be no appeasement of the sect."

Alice Lenshima, a matronly woman in her 40s, was reported holed up in Kasomo village, six miles from Chinsali. Government officials were reported unwilling to capture her for fear of setting off more violence.

Mohawk Profits Soar

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Mohawk Airlines reported Thursday that the first six months of this year were the most profitable in its 19-year history.

Net profits for the six-month period were $539,367, equivalent to 35.6 cents per share of outstanding stock. In the comparable period last year, earnings were $129,044 or 11.9 cents per share.

Mohawk President Robert E. Peach predicted that the year would end with the largest profits in the company's history.

Chinese firecrackers sputter and crackle on the world diplomatic stage, and a strange spectacle is unfolding.

Confusing changes in the global picture are in prospect, foretelling new foreign policy problems for the next U.S. administration.

Suitors Suspicious

At the center of the spectacle is West Germany, like a ponderous coquette at an international ball. Suitors in both camps eye one another with hostile suspicion.

The Soviet Union and Red China, each in its own way, court Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's regime. President Charles de Gaulle's France, like a jilted swain, is sulking. The United States remains Bonn's favored suitor, but the long-range possibilities could make Washington jump.

Premier Khrushchev and Soviet propaganda still vigorously accuse the West German regime of plotting revenge and seeking nuclear arms for nefarious purposes. But Khrushchev now is virtually committed to go to Bonn, probably late this year, to talk with Erhard on a wide assortment of issues. On political issues, such as Berlin, they may make scant progress, but on the economic side the story could be different.

Interest Increases

The Red Chinese appear to find unwelcome the notion that Khrushchev might mend his relations with West Germany. French recognition of Peking has increased Red China's interest in Europe. This seems to worry the Kremlin.

Apart from Red Chinese muscle-flexing, there are a number of reasons why the Russians at this stage might want to play ball with West Germany.

Moscow has been restive about French-German cooperation, which reached a point of near-euphoria early in 1963 when Konrad Adenauer still was at the helm in Bonn. The two countries have less in the way of a common policy now. Erhard does not buy the idea of a European policy independent of the United States.

There's a lot of ferment in the east. Often, ideology seems to be sidetracked in the East in favor of old-fashioned power politics in which prospective trade becomes a potent weapon to pry alliances apart.

Nine Spend First Comfortable Night In French Mine

CAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Nine men trapped in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France spent their first comfortable night in three days as rescue teams drilled through to their position 300 feet below the surface of Mt. Revel.

Food and wine were lowered to the entombed miners Wednesday along with first aid supplies for those who were slightly injured by the cave-in Monday. Playing cards went down to help them pass the time.

"We are all fine, but we are going to sleep now," fireman Andre Martinet told his daughter Janine shortly after midnight through a microphone lowered through the supply tube.

Above ground it was the third night without sleep for many of the workers who hope to have the men out by the end of the week.

This morning a three-inch oil drill broke through into the mine 300 feet below and the rescuers made preparations to enlarge it into an escape hatch.

Champagnole Mayor Andre Socie said the guide drill had gone through hard, solid rock. He said this would slow up the work but meant the evacuation could be carried out with greater safety.

Broome Man Is To Direct GOP Drive in State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Michael N. Seelsi of Johnson City has been chosen by Republican state leaders to direct the GOP's presidential campaign in New York State, according to a high party source.

Seelsi, a veteran party worker who now serves as executive director of the GOP state committee, will be named to the campaign post officially next Thursday, the source disclosed Wednesday night.

State Chairman Fred A. Young has invited all county chairmen to a meeting here on that day to map plans for the New York campaign in behalf of presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Before joining the state committee staff in 1959, Seelsi served as an assistant industrial commissioner in charge of the State Labor Department's Binghamton office. Previously he was assistant to the president of Harpur College.

He is married and the father of four children. Although the family has been living in Albany, Seelsi regards Johnson City as his home.

Goldwater Off For Coast Rest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, counting on new-look campaign debates with President Johnson, begins a week-long California vacation today.

The Arizona senator will fly west aboard a private plane. Aides said he wants the journey to be a vacation trip and nothing else.

Guest of Wedemeyer Goldwater's first California stop is an exclusive, 2,600-acre retreat called Bohemian Grove, 80 miles north of San Francisco.

The senator plans to stay there through Saturday as the guest of retired Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer. The retreat is divided into about 12 separate camps. Goldwater will be stopping at one called the Caveman Club.

On Saturday, Goldwater plans to fly to Newport Beach, south of Los Angeles, to rest with his wife, who is vacationing there. He expects to fly back to Washington next Wednesday for a round of talks with GOP members of the House and Senate Aug. 6 and 7.

Goldwater told newsmen on the eve of his departure he was not surprised there was no quick response from the White House after his Tuesday declaration he was "ready, willing and able" to debate Johnson.

Confident of Debate "I think when the time comes he'll be willing to debate," Goldwater said.

He said that late in August 1960, Richard M. Nixon still had not made up his mind to face John F. Kennedy in the series of television campaign debates.

Goldwater has said the debates were a mistake for the Republicans, and one that contributed to Nixon's defeat.

The senator said he is still apprehensive about debate involving Johnson because he fears U.S. secrets might be aired in the heat of a live television debate.

He suggested a revised format, skipping the reporters' questions that were a fixture of the Kennedy-Nixon debates.

Instead, Goldwater said, his staff and Johnson's could discuss in advance material that would be covered "without having to fear secret or top secret disclosures."

"I think it would be better to have a problem stated and then both sides present their solution," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said that his meeting with Johnson last Friday convinced him that civil rights tensions will not be injected into the campaign by either nominee or the men around him.

SEN. CLAIR ENGLE

his vote in favor of the civil rights bill.

Engle's wife, Lucretia, and a physician were with him when he died early this morning.

The body will be taken to his home in Red Bluff, Calif., for burial. Other funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Doctors said the second operation was "a craniotomy performed to relieve pressure."

The first operation last August came after tests to diagnose the cause of painful cramps in Engle's right arm and leg. Dr. Roy L. Sexton, Engle's personal physician, said that a small amount of brain tissue was removed and that it was not malignant.

In Congress 20 Years

A member of Congress for 20 years, Engle served eight successive terms in the House of Representatives before his election to the Senate in 1958.

Throughout his congressional career, Engle was identified primarily with water resource development in California and the West.

In the Senate, Engle was a member of Armed Services and Commerce committees and the special committees on small business and the problems of the aging.

Born in Bakersfield, Calif., Sept. 21, 1911, Engle was graduated from Chico State College and obtained a law degree from the Hastings College of Law, University of California, in 1933.

Engle's political career began in 1934 with his election as district attorney of Tehama County. In 1942 he was elected to the California State Senate and in August 1943 was elected to fill the seat in the U.S. House left vacant by the death of Rep. Harry Elmeright.

Engle's home is in Red Bluff, Calif. He was married to the former Lucretia Caldwell of San Jose, Calif., and had one daughter by a previous marriage, Yvonne Engle Childs.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective gains among motors, electrical equipments and rails helped push the stock market slightly higher early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The advance was irregular, with plenty of losers. Chemicals were down as a group. Oils and utilities were unchanged to lower.

The market had a hesitant start, but bullish sentiment began to warm up when it was apparent the downward trend of late Wednesday was going no further.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 318.3 with industrials up .6, rails of .6 and utilities up .2. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.59 at 840.26.

Gains approaching a point were made by Chrysler and General Motors. Ford was off a fraction, however, while other leading carmakers were steady.

Calgon raced up more than 3 in further response to its proposals for a 150 per cent stock dividend and increase cash payout.

Westinghouse Electric rose more than a point. Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central each were up nearly a point.

Getty and Tidewater oils gained fractions.

to cross over to the GOP row to vote for president. Mahoney said the party has 10,400 registered backers, but expects 20 times that many votes.

Earlier, Young said in another statement that the state GOP would conduct a "full-scale" campaign for the national ticket.

He added:

"We are realistic enough to realize we face an uphill fight, but the Goldwater-Miller ticket has a fighting chance in New York and we refuse to be written off."

By proposing a single slate of Goldwater electors, the Conservative party hoped to avert presentation of separate GOP and Conservative slates. The Conservative leadership fears this would enhance prospects of Democratic victory, because the slate receiving the majority vote will represent the state at the meeting of the Electoral College.

Yank Officer Is 164th Killed in Viet Nam Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army officer was reported killed in a major Viet Cong ambush of a government battalion north of Saigon before dawn today. Government casualties were reported "extremely heavy," reliable sources said.

Admit Major Action

An American spokesman declined immediate comment but acknowledged that a major action had taken place.

If the American death is confirmed, it will be the fifth in South Viet Nam in the past three days and the 164th in action since December 1961.

The Viet Cong ambushed a government unit moving from the regimental headquarters of Ben Sue to Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon, to begin an early morning operation.

Scattered action has been continuing in the Ben Cat region for three days, and the operation today was apparently planned to rout guerrillas still in the area.

However, the guerrillas moved first, ambushing the long line of convoys and inflicting heavy casualties before melting back into the jungle. Government pursuit forces were sent in but no contact was made.

In Saigon, combat engineers removed statues and inscriptions from the French war memorial which Vietnamese students had partially wrecked in a demonstration Tuesday night against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize South Viet Nam.

Indict Sinatra Kidnap Attorneys For Conspiracy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Attorneys Gladys Towles Root and George A. Forde say they are shocked and surprised at a federal grand jury indictment charging them with conspiracy and subornation of perjury.

"It's unbelievable," Forde said Wednesday. "It's regrettable," added Mrs. Root.

Neither Forde nor Mrs. Root, who's noted for extravagant dress in the courtroom, chose to answer at much length after being indicted on charges arising from their defense roles in the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping case.

Forde and Mrs. Root were charged with two counts of seeking to induce their respective clients, Joseph Clyde Amisler, 23, and John Irwin, 42, to commit perjury in defense testimony.

They were also charged with one count of conspiracy to commit offenses against the U.S. government by obstructing justice, influencing witnesses and committing perjury.

A few hours later, both attorneys said they would surrender to federal authorities today.

Morris Lavine, defense counsel for Barry Worthington Keenan in the sensational trial, said he had been retained by Mrs. Root.

Commented Lavine: "Mrs. Root is completely innocent of the charges. We expect complete vindication when the case comes to trial."

Amisler and Keenan, also 23, were convicted on six counts of kidnaping young Sinatra from a Lake Tahoe, Nev., motel last Dec. 8. They were sentenced July 18 to 25 years, less seven months they already had served.

Irwin was acquitted of actual participation in the kidnaping, but was convicted as an accomplice and sentenced to 16 years and eight months.

Although Amisler, Keenan and Irwin were named in the true bill as conspirators, they were not indicted.

by the State authorities and is awaiting confirmation from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The shower of Wednesday will give only temporary relief from the severe drought and with no rain of any consequence in sight, local crops still are threatened.

Rosendale village has put a ban on excessive use of water and steps are being taken to secure an emergency supply. The village of Port Ewen has turned to the Hudson River to augment its well water source. The City of Kingston continues to have an adequate supply.

Report on State

The eastern disturbance ripped roofs from buildings, toppled trees and knocked out power in several communities.

A return to warmer weather was forecast for Friday, the bureau said, with no sign of the steady-soaking rain needed to break the summer-long drought.

The long-range forecast, extending into next Tuesday, called for "light and spotty" rainfall, in the form of scattered thunder-showers.

Worst Dry Spell

Farm experts say the drought has inflicted such serious damage that only a massive rainfall could revive steadily declining crops. There has been no heavy, statewide rain since May, and the Weather Bureau says the present dry spell is the worst on record.

During the past several weeks, 19 Upstate counties have been designated as drought-disaster areas in order to obtain special federal aid for distressed farmers.

37 Counties Suffer

As the warm weather continued to bake most of New York, the Farmers Home Administration on Wednesday declared farmers in 37 counties eligible for emergency loans because of the drought.

The counties are: Albany, Alleghany, Broome, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Dutchess, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Madison, Montgomery, Oneida, Onondaga, Oswego, Otsego, Rensselaer, St. Lawrence, Saratoga, Schoharie, Schuyler, Steuben, Tioga, Tompkins, Warren, Washington, Yates and Suffolk.

The bills would also add about 600,000 aged persons to the beneficiary rolls by relaxing coverage requirements for the benefit of persons, mostly widows, 72 and older.

It would also extend children's benefits to age 22 for surviving children who continue their education and would bring under Social Security coverage self-employed doctors of medicine and internes.

Indict Sinatra Kidnap Attorneys For Conspiracy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Attorneys Gladys Towles Root and George A. Forde say they are shocked and surprised at a federal grand jury indictment charging them with conspiracy and subornation of perjury.

"It's unbelievable," Forde said Wednesday. "It's regrettable," added Mrs. Root.

They were also charged with one count of conspiracy to commit offenses against the U.S. government by obstructing justice, influencing witnesses and committing perjury.

Irvin was acquitted of actual participation in the kidnaping, but was convicted as an accomplice and sentenced to 16 years and eight months.
